$425 Million Measure Passes With Few Legislative Bumps

MADISON (AP) — A record $425 million state highway budget faced only a brief detour today, back to the Senate before going on to the governor's desk and winding up a legislative journey with hardly a bump.

The Assembly passed the spending program for the current two-year fiscal period 92-6 Tuesday. The budget, financed by gasoline taxes and license receipts is about $28 million higher than the outlay for roads in the 1963-65 period.

The lower house, by voice vote, wrote into the bill contingencies of the over-the-counter sales of drivers' licenses and auto license plates at Madison and Milwaukee, thus sending the measure back to the Senate for acceptance of the change before the package reaches Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

Senate Action
The Senate had passed the bill this summer without the over-the-counter program at a time when Knowles' plan for complete mail handling of such sales had not yet died of legislative disinterest.

Assemblymen rejected two amendments to the bill before voting approval. One of the changes would have required the state to reimburse Milwaukee County for the 10 per cent it pays for construction of federal interstate roads. The state picks up the 10 per cent tab for the other 71 counties.

The second amendment would have allocated revenue from sales taxes on automobiles to new road construction.

Before passing the highway budget the Assembly debated a controversial measure that would restrict pre-trial statements by defense and prosecution attorneys and police after arrest in a criminal case. It was finally laid over to a later calendar.

Fair Trial
Assemblyman Edward Nager, a Madison Democrat and the sole author, said the bill would insure accused persons a fair trial.

Nager said there are many "hysterical editorial writers who say we should wait I say that we have waited long enough."

Under the proposal, statements on the "guilt or innocence of the defendant, the existence or absence of a criminal record of the defendant... the existence of a statement or confession of the accused" would be prohibited.

These provisions would have been removed by an amendment offered by Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi, Republican minority leader.

Nager, an attorney, said he would agree with the amendment if it stopped short of the

New Division's First Big Fight Leaves 34 Reds Dead

AN KHE, South Viet Nam (AP) — One battalion of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division, Airborne, remained in contact with the Viet Cong in the Suoi Ca Valley of the central highlands today, but the rest of the big American force was pulling out.

Maj. Gen. Harry Kinnard, the commander of the division, said the Communists apparently were defending their wounded and would fight until they could carry them away.

At last count 34 Viet Cong bodies had been counted and 93 guerrillas were captured in the four-day Operation Shiny Bayonet in the valley 25 miles north-east of An Khe. The Americans estimated at least 44 more Viet Cong had been killed by artillery or air attack.

First Operation
It was the airborne division's first big operation since arriving in Viet Nam a month ago. U.S. losses were described as light, but one company of the battalion still in contact with the Viet Cong was under fire from mortars and automatic weapons all night and suffered moderate casualties.

The American battalions removed large stores of captured rice, soybeans, peanuts and salt as they withdrew. Kinnard acknowledged that his men had not killed many Viet Cong, but he said they had taken large amounts of vital supplies from the enemy.

Many baskets of Viet Cong documents were also captured. The field commander of the operation, Col. Thomas Brown, of West Point, N.Y., said prisoners had reported that enemy units were aware of the operation in advance and had been

Union Shop Ban Bill Defeated by Senate

Dirksen Calls Signals for Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has shelved for this year a bill to repeal state authority to ban the union shop.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana took the action Tuesday in the face of overwhelming evidence that opponents of the measure had the upper hand.

The net result is defeat for organized labor, which drummed hard for passage, and for President Johnson, who put a "top priority" tag on the measure.

At the same time it spells victory for Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who organized a filibuster that so successfully blocked action on the bill it never officially was brought before the Senate.

Again Next Year
Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., chief sponsor of the bill, told a reporter he expects it to be revived next year.

"The issue remains before the Congress and the nation as unfinished business," he said.

But Mansfield is not tipping his hand. He declined to discuss his plans for Congress return in January.

A byproduct of Mansfield's move may be an end to the 1965 session possibly by the end of next week.

Only about 10 bills remain to be considered, and most of them have been cleared once by the Senate and the House, with another run-through awaiting conference committee resolution of differences in the two bodies' versions.

19 Have Law

The union shop bill would have repealed section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law. It is this provision which allows states to ban labor contracts in which union membership is made compulsory. Nineteen states have such laws.

Mansfield said an unsuccessful attempt Monday to invoke cloture and crack the filibuster sealed the bill's fate for the year. Supporters mustered only 45 votes against the Dirksen team's 47, not even a majority where two-thirds was needed.

The image is clear," said Mansfield. "The Senate does not wish the leadership to press the attempt to take up 14B at this time."

However, he said he does not regard the vote against cloture as "a judgment on the merits of the repeal of 14B."

The bill's backers agreed with this. But they said privately Mansfield's decision to bring the measure up so late in the year played into opponents' hands.

Mansfield has emphasized the measure did not get to the Senate calendar from committee until September.

Coast Guard Patrol Tripled

Misfit Armada Ferry's Cuban Refugees to Coast of Florida

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The small boat exodus of Cuban refugees sailing across the Florida Straits moved into high gear today.

Coast Guard patrol ships, tripled in number since the first exile boats began crossing the choppy Gulf Stream last week, were towing disabled craft carrying sick and injured refugees and chasing reports that more boats were on the way.

Dozens of other small boats were in Cuban ports taking on refugees or were heading for Cuba.

The Coast Guard cutter Cape Darby brought 39 seaskick refugees into Key West Tuesday night after four- and five-foot waves threatened to swamp their boats. Most of them were elderly. Some children were aboard also.

Eight crewmen who picked up the 39 in Cuba remained with their craft although they had to be towed into port.

One of the eight said that at least 10 boats were waiting at Camarioca to ferry refugees to Florida.

The Coast Guard said it had stopped and warned at least 40 boats to handle the do-it-yourself boats leaving the Florida coast.

House Has Year's Last Money Bill

Catchall Measure Includes Funds For Poverty War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last of the annual money bills — a catchall $4,214,609,510 measure including $1.5 billion for the antipoverty program — was sent to the House today by its Appropriations Committee.

If Congress goes along with the committee which cut the President's requests by $149,510,500 total appropriations for this session will approximate $117 billion, a record for a nonwar year.

The bill provides funds for about 20 federal agencies and programs. The House will consider it Thursday and the Senate early next week.

The $1.5 billion for the antipoverty program is the amount President Johnson requested and $265 million less than Congress authorized in an earlier bill. For food aid, $235 million for the Job Corps, $235 million for work-training programs and $645 million for cooperative community action programs.

Laud Results

The committee commended the administration of the antipoverty program for moving expediently and in an efficient manner. Results have been truly phenomenal, the committee said.

For programs administered by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, the committee recommended $1,500,541,500, a cut of $76,183,500.

Included are $6 million for rent subsidies for low-income persons under the new housing law $100 million for grants for water and sewer facilities, $35 million for housing loans for the elderly, $1.4 billion to help cities finance urban renewal programs, and $9 million to start a $200-million program to help local public bodies provide neighborhood facilities.

'Warming' Forecast; Maybe to 40 Tonight

Five-Day Forecast — Warming trend expected to continue through the weekend, with temperatures ranging from highs of 60 to 70 to lows of 20 to 30. Precipitation expected to be near zero, with rain in northern Wisconsin Thursday or Friday and over most of the state Saturday and Sunday.

Appleton — Observations at 10 a.m. today for the preceding 24-hour period: High, 52; Low, 33. Present temperature, 42. Wind calm but occasional gusts from the north-east. Barometer, 30.05 and rising. Relative humidity, 62 per cent. Dew point, 31 degrees. Skies are clear. No precipitation. White frost on ground this morning.

Fox Cities — Fair tonight, increasing cloudiness on Thursday. Slow warming trend. Low tonight near 34. High Thursday near 62. Light southeast winds tonight and Thursday.

Demonstrators Sack Red Youth Headquarters

Documents Burned By 2,000 Indonesian Anti-Communists

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — About 2,000 demonstrators sacked a Communist youth headquarters only 100 yards from President Sukarno's palace today and burned documents and broken furniture in a bonfire in the yard.

This latest in a series of attacks against Red holdings came as a high government official disclosed Sukarno is considering plans to establish a new Indonesian Communist party and may reappraise Indonesia's relations with Red China.

The target of the day was the traditional gathering place for Communist-sponsored street demonstrations in the past and offices of a number of Communist-dominated youth organizations.

Storm Hall
The demonstrators stormed the hall and smashed its windows and furniture. Regular army troops posted nearby watched without interfering.

But when the crowd appeared to get out of hand, presidential guards moved in with fixed bayonets and, supported by armored cars, drove away the crowd.

The demonstrators were seen smashing a "Crush the PKI" banner. The PKI is the Indonesian Communist party. He has been reported a fugitive in central Java or a refugee in Red China.

The demonstrators started from the semi-official National Front organization headquarters and after smashing the youth hall, returned to the same place where they were congratulated by the Front officials.

Only Beginning
The officials told the demonstrators "This is only the beginning."

"We should also crush a new PKI," the officials said.

The government official, in reporting Sukarno was considering plans to establish a new party not bent toward Peking, indicated Indonesia and Red China still will follow the same policy of opposition to the West.

The official said there is complete understanding between Sukarno and Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, the defense minister and chief of staff of the armed forces on the idea of creating a new Communist party based on Indonesian self-interest.

The official added the present Communist party leadership will be dropped.

Medical Team Breaks Up Johnson's Progress Continues to be Normal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's recovery from major surgery continued in routine, by-the-book fashion today.

Johnson was up early and there was more solid food on his breakfast menu.

Johnson awoke at 7:15 a.m. His breakfast, toast, chipped beef, tea and orange juice.

The President's progress has been such that his attending team of doctors is starting to break up.

Everything Normal
Word that everything is going exactly as expected gets so much emphasis that a major point of interest at presidential press secretary Bill D. Moyers' briefings Tuesday was whether the President had mashed or fried potatoes for dinner.

The President had mashed potatoes for dinner. The President had mashed potatoes.

The operation for removal of Johnson's gall bladder and a kidney stone took place last Friday. Thus Johnson is about half-way through the 10- to 14-day period of hospitalization the physicians expected.

In the interval, the doctors have stressed that everything has been normal and right on schedule — pain, discomfort, fatigue, gas, removal of drainage tubes, increasing exercise and a return to solid food.

Again today, no official visitors were listed in advance. But a couple were expected.

Dr. Ormonde Culp, Mayo Clinic urologist, was first of the 10-man Johnson medical team on the departure roster. Movers said his guess was that others would begin to follow Culp — the man who removed the kidney stone.

Movers relayed word to newsmen that Dr. George A. Hallenbeck, who performed the gall bladder operation, and the Johnson family physician, Dr. James C. Cain, say their patient is doing just what they want him to do — following their instructions "to a T."

Reynolds To Get U.S. State Bench

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today from his hospital suite that he intends to nominate former Wisconsin governor John W. Reynolds to a federal judgeship in that state.

Reynolds, governor in 1963 and 1964, will be nominated to succeed Kenneth P. Grubb, retired, as a judge for the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

Reynolds, 41, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and a member of the Wisconsin bar since 1949, has been in private law practice in Milwaukee since serving as governor.

State Highway Bill Takes Brief Detour, Goes to Governor

$425 Million Measure Passes

MADISON, AP. — A record $425 million state highway budget faced only a brief detour today back to the Senate before rolling on to the governor's desk and winding up a legislative journey with hardly a bump.

The Assembly passed the bill for the 10 per cent of spending program for the current two-year fiscal period 1965-66 Tuesday. The budget, financed by gasoline taxes and other receipts is about $22 million higher than the outlay for roads in the 1963-64 period.

Tshombe Rule Is Dismissed By Kasavubu

President's Action
Announced Before Parliament Meeting

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu dismissed the government of Premier Moise Tshombe today and called on Evariste Kimba, a deputy from North Katanga, to form a new one.

Kimba is a member of the Baluba tribe which traditionally is hostile to Tshombe's Lunda tribe. But Kimba was Tshombe's foreign minister after Katanga Province seceded in 1960.

There had been speculation Kasavubu would dissolve the government then call on Tshombe again to form a new one with the understanding that his Cabinet include supporters of Interior Minister Victor Nendaka.

The president's action, announced in a speech to a joint session of Parliament, came after a period of intense rivalry between Tshombe and Nendaka. Kasavubu's announcement

$4 Billion Farm Measure Gets Okay of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a precedent-setting farm bill which the Agriculture Department estimates will cost $4 billion during the 1966 crop year.

Approved earlier by the House, the measure now awaits President Johnson's signature. The key changes in this year's legislation

1 It covers four years, the longest period ever approved by the Congress for an omnibus farm measure

2 It provides direct support payments to cotton growers who don't use their entire acreage allotment.

It Really Is Something Beyond Words to have an advertisement such as the one shown on the left appear in this newspaper on September 27th. We are delighted and pleased — but most of all, gratified by the expression of appreciation from our employees and by their sincerity in wanting everyone to know.

We Are Proud of our employees, for it is they who are the ambassadors of the friendly, courteous image which has become traditional at the Park 'N' Markets.

We Wish to Thank our employees, and pledge to them and to you that Park 'N' Markets will continue to set the example for supermarkets of this area. We further pledge to follow fundamentals of good business practice and ethics, regardless of the tempting — but very questionable — offers, claims, and methods used in supermarket promotions today.

The Bosses

We Salute Our Bosses!

Closed Saturdays At 6 P.M.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM the EMPLOYEES of PIGGLY-WIGGLYS & PARK 'N' MARKETS:

Congratulations are in order (we feel) to our bosses for their decision to close their markets on Saturday nights in order to give us more time to be with our families on the weekends.

We appreciate the consideration shown to each of us and we are proud of the example they are setting for super markets in this area.

We are most proud of our bosses because even in the face of more highly-concentrated competition, they put us—the employees—first. They are leaders with the courage of their convictions. We wanted you to know.

Sincerely,
225 Proud Employees

Why Do More People Come to Park 'N' Markets?

There are many reasons — some of the key reasons are shown clearly above. Another most unique reason is that PARK 'N' MARKETS think of all customers and all employees as people, and at Park 'N' Markets, people come first. Park 'N' Markets feel it is a privilege to serve — Park 'N' Markets are in the grocery business — it is our only business — Park 'N' Markets are owned locally and are supplied locally — Park 'N' Markets are volume buyers, volume pricers, and volume merchandisers — Park 'N' Markets are efficiently managed for true economy — Park 'N' markets are planned this way. There is a difference at Park 'N' Markets — you can be sure!

Atom Smasher Site Selection Nearing

AEC Limited $348 Million Plant Location to 85 Possible Spots

BY FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The already long-staged Atomic Energy Commission's search for a site for a $348 million atom smasher has been narrowed to 85 possible locations, the AEC said today.

The AEC's search for a site for a $348 million atom smasher has been narrowed to 85 possible locations, the AEC said today. The AEC's search for a site for a $348 million atom smasher has been narrowed to 85 possible locations, the AEC said today.

the contenders want it so badly that the majority of them have offered free land to the government—for example, a $10-million lot of this type offered by the State of Indiana.

Rep. Hiram, a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, criticized the AEC the day the commission formally announced its admittedly modest whittling down of the contest entrants.

Political Moves
Hiram asserted that the commission's recent action "leaving 85 states still in the fight" constituted an "attempt to keep its political skirts clean."

Comptroller of the AEC also came quickly from a key theme. "But the AEC is by no means handing over the whole thing to the academy," says Dr. Paul McDaniel, the AEC's director of research, who supervised the initial handling of the "bids" and prepared them for AEC study.

"We'll stay with the ball all along," he told a reporter, indicating that the full commission, as well as his own staff, would huddle periodically with the NAS group, and exchange views.

In announcing the list of 85 survivors to date, the AEC said all of them seemed to meet the basic criteria established by the commission for a desirable site. These criteria call for a site that would:

1. Contain at least 3,000 acres owned by, or reasonably available to, the U.S. government;
2. Have the potential of delivering a firm electric power load of several hundred million watts, and a minimum of 2,000 gallons a minute of high quality water;
3. Be reasonably close to commercial and industrial center which includes research and development activities;

4. Be reasonably close to communities having adequate housing, cultural and educational facilities for some 2,300 scientific and technical personnel and their families; and

5. Be close to adequate surface transportation systems and a major airport with frequent service to major U.S. cities.

McDaniel makes plain that the AEC has not dreamed up some brand-new major criteria to guide the national academy in its evaluation job.

Without saying whether he thought the AEC let politics enter its initial evaluation of the proposed sites, McDaniel said the academy committee "will of course not put political emphasis on the subject. I'm sure they won't have national politics involved."

Gauge Merits
And the committee, he said, is expected to get down to cases on the "trade-offs" and compro-misses between technical and other factors that will become necessary in gauging the merits or demerits of a given area.

For example, McDaniel indicated: A given area might have relatively high electric power rates, yet be graced with land having the firm foundation needed to build the monstrous machine.

Heavy snows in the northern parts of the country during winter might, at first glance, tend to disqualify these areas from the race because of the requirement for building more and stronger auxiliary buildings at the atom-smasher complex to protect against the snow. Yet, these same areas also have year-round the cool water needed for the machine.

Cannot Be Hilly
A given area might have the firm subsoil foundation needed, yet be so hilly that bulldozing costs to level the land might be prohibitive.

Areas subject to serious earthquakes would definitely be ruled out, McDaniel indicated, but an area subject to only minor quakes could still have a chance.

Some AEC officials say they believe that despite the large number of contenders still in the race, it might still be possible to pick the winner by next February or March and get going on the project—provided Congress authorizes the construction funds.

Assembly Okays 'Agency Shop' Bill

Law Would Permit City, County Employees to Require Union Fees

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — In an unusual show of power, the public employee unions of the state Monday put through the assembly by an 82 to 13 vote a bill to legalize agency shop agreements by contract of local governments and labor organizations.

The roll call represented a striking defeat for the principal governing boards, and labor or local government associations to require all employees to pay dues and fees to join the union without regard to whether the employee involved is a member of the union or desires to be a member. Such contracts would be effective by secret referendum ballot representing at least two-thirds of the employees in the employment unit.

John A. Lawton, principal legislative counsel for the municipal employee unions, employed the argument he used effectively several years ago in winning approval for a collective bargaining law for those unions. The practice of requiring non-union members in private employment units to pay for union services benefiting them, through contracts of employer and unions representing a majority of employees, is now commonplace and generally accepted in private business, he said.

But the League of Wisconsin Municipalities opposed the bill, fee or dues income under the law, but that it is intended to stabilize existing union membership.

The new law is intended to cover all local public employees except supervisors, law enforcement officers, and teachers. State employees would not be involved.

Passage of the measure was forecast when assemblymen by a more narrow, but nevertheless decisive margin killed an amendment that would have cancelled the right of any employee unit to have the agency shop in the event of an employee strike.

Lawton said he did not expect any significant increase in union fee or dues income under the law, but that it is intended to stabilize existing union membership.

Senate Gets TB Financial Aid Proposal

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Wisconsin assembly Monday approved and sent to the senate for its expected concurrence a measure designed primarily to relieve some of the financial problems of Menominee County.

The measure would provide for special state assistance to counties which have unusually high tuberculosis sanatorium caseloads.

Menominee County officials have complained about their valuation of the excess cost will be paid by the state treasury and fourth grade Mrs. Dallas Boelter, fifth and sixth Mrs. Alvin Freemark, seventh and eighth grade teacher, spoke on where the proposed measure to pay for his own care sets exporers and expanded the vision of the cost sharing for with the balance charged to the meral.

portion of a one-hour documentary promoting the industrial and business potential of Wisconsin.

The color film is being prepared for television showing in December under the title, "We Like It Here." State funds are financing half the $50,000 cost. Private sources are paying the remainder.

Alfonsi asked that the bill be laid over to permit him to prepare a new amendment incorporating Nager's suggestion.

The Senate reversed itself on a bill that it earlier approved. The lawmakers declined to advance a proposal to allow the state Employment Relations Board to step into municipal labor disputes and determine if an illegal work stoppage existed.

The measure was rejected on grounds communities are capable of taking care of their disputes without state action.

The Assembly devoted itself to the problem of unsightly auto junkyards near highways. Lawmakers granted approval on a 96-2 vote to a bill requiring that six-foot fences be erected around the junkyards.

Sent To Senate

The proposal also would keep yards 750 feet from county, state and federal highways and 2,000 feet from limits of municipalities. The bill would exempt existing yards from the 750-foot restriction. The proposal was sent to the Senate.

Infant Girl Dies In Stolen Auto

Daughter Left on Seat While Mother Went Shopping

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Five-week-old Sonia Reed was found dead Tuesday night in the front seat of her family's car 10 hours after the car was stolen while her mother shopped for groceries.

The infant, still neatly dressed in a pink gown and pink booties and covered with a blanket, was found about 10 p.m. a few blocks from the grocery store parking lot from which she and the car disappeared about noon. Police ordered an autopsy, but one officer said the child "in all probability" died of exposure. He said there were no marks of violence on the child's body. Temperatures ranged in the mid-60s during the evening hours before the infant was found. Windows of the car were open.

The child's mother, Ray Lee Reed, 23, told police she left her daughter in the front seat of the car for about five minutes while she shopped for a few items. She returned to find both the car and the baby missing. Mrs. Reed said she had left the keys in the car.

Police said the car, and the baby, may have been taken by teenagers seen loitering in the area of the grocery store.

A truck driver making a delivery at the store reported seeing two teenage youths standing near the car.

Homicide Capt. Will Fritz Reed, 23, told police she left her daughter in the front seat of the car for about five minutes while she shopped for a few items. She returned to find both the car and the baby missing. Mrs. Reed said she had left the keys in the car.

Sonia was the only child of Mrs. Reed and her husband.

Carrier FDR, French Merchant Ship Collide

LONDON (AP) — U.S. Navy headquarters said the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt and the French merchant ship Charles le Borghe collided about 100 miles southeast of Marseille early today.

No injuries were reported aboard either ship, and the Navy said neither required aid from other American ships in the area.

The Navy said the 51,000-ton carrier suffered minor damage forward along the starboard side.

The 2,130-ton French ship was damaged in the bow section above the waterline, the Navy reported. It was en route to Algiers with a mixed cargo.

The carrier is on duty with the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. Its home port is Mayport, Fla.

6,000 Viet Cong Defectors Reported

Rights Group Photographer Held in Jail

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A civil rights photographer who was attacked by a Ku Klux Klansman was held in jail today on $500 bond on a charge of possessing fireworks. The Klansman, charged with assault, was free on $100 bond.

The victim of the first swinging attack is Brig Cabe, a dark-skinned youth who works for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. State police said Cabe had a firecracker when taken into custody. Georgia law makes possession of fireworks illegal.

Klansman Cecil Myers of Athens, Ga., who chased the photographer and tackled him Tuesday, left town with his companion, Joseph Howard Sims, also of Athens. The two men were indicted, tried and acquitted of murder last year in the shotgun killing of a Negro educator near Colbert, Ga.

"I asked them to leave town," said W.E. Watson, chairman of the county commission. The Klansmen were not on the scene today when 15 Negro pupils tried again to block school buses carrying white children to other counties.

Myers and Sims, dressed in black and calling themselves "Black Knights," had marched alongside about 100 Negroes after the demonstrators left the courthouse and headed back to a church.

Gronouski to Make Farewells at Dinner

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski will make his farewell speech to the postal service at the final banquet of the 61st convention of the National Association of Postmasters here Thursday night.

The former Wisconsin tax commissioner will leave Washington for his new post as ambassador to Poland in two weeks.

David Merrick 'Shocked' by Reception

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Broadway producer David Merrick said today he was "shocked and disappointed" because U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge did not invite the whole "Hello, Dolly" company to a reception honoring his show's visit to this war zone. Merrick said only four principal players were invited to the reception Tuesday night at which star Mary Martin sang songs from "South Pacific" and joined Lodge in singing "Some Enchanted Evening." "All the ambassador did was get himself some free entertainment," said Merrick, "without really doing anything to show appreciation for the hard work and dedication our 72-member troupe has shown in coming here to perform and the time they spend every day, after regular performances, visiting hospitals and USO clubs." Merrick said he arrived at the ambassador's residence thinking the whole company had been invited and instead found the room filled with all sorts of minor officials and press representatives of the most obscure origin.

He said the scene made him so angry he would not join the line to shake the ambassador's hand. Lodge could not be reached immediately for comment.

Deaths Bring Road Toll to 799

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The deaths of two boys in separate accidents have raised Wisconsin's 1965 highway toll to 779, compared with 636 on this date a year ago. Mark Klein, 8, of Milwaukee was killed late Tuesday while riding his bicycle on Jefferson County Trunk B near Lake Mills. The boy's bicycle and a car collided at an intersection. Russell J. Imhoff, 15, of rural Waunakee was killed late Tuesday when a car he was driving and a truck collided at a curve near Waunakee.

1st Cavalry Pulls Out of Highland Area

told to pull out of the area Saturday, the day before the operation began.

No Contact
No contact was reported with elements of the 325th Division of the North Vietnamese army, which had been reported operating in the area.

The Viet Cong did fight a series of delaying actions and received a heavy pounding from helicopter rocket ships and artillery.

Shiny Bavonet was considered more of a pacification attempt than a search and kill operation. Kinnard said. He said a civil affairs unit would be moved into the area immediately and a district chief would be appointed. He emphasized that American troops would be close at hand should the Viet Cong return to the valley.

There was no official word of what happened to three battalions of Vietnamese army troops whose mission was to enter from the high end of the valley. Two Vietnamese marine battalions did reach their destination and were in contact with the Americans.

Three hundred refugees were taken to a nearby refugee camp and will be relocated.

Continue Search
Paratroopers of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade continued their search operation in the Iron Triangle 35 miles northeast of Saigon and used tear gas twice on tunnels without finding any Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman said.

Viet Cong mortars hit the paratroopers at dusk today and inflicted light casualties. The Americans returned the fire and silenced the enemy, the spokesman said.

So far, 84 Viet Cong have been reported killed in the Iron Triangle operation and 115 captured. The area is on the fringe of the Viet Cong's jungle Zone D.

Statistics on the war last week, issued today, indicated the Viet Cong was forcing the pace of battle for the first time in weeks.

A U.S. spokesman said the Viet Cong initiated 699 attacks, the highest so far this year.

During the week 48 Americans were killed in action, the biggest total since the battle of Chu Lai in mid-August, when 59 were killed.

Four Americans were reported missing last week and 113 wounded. South Vietnamese losses for the week were put at 174 killed, 550 wounded and 15 missing or captured.

Viet Cong casualties for the same period were 584 killed and 84 captured, or a kill ratio of 2.6 to 1 in favor of U.S. and South Vietnamese forces, the spokesman said.

In the air war, U.S. and Vietnamese air force planes flew 220 combat sorties in South Viet Nam during the past 24 hours. Four U.S. F-105 fighter-bombers dropped 400,000 propaganda leaflets 15 miles west of the North Vietnamese city of Thanh Hoa.

Manitowoc County Man Indicted on Bank Breakin Charge

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted Francis J. Jones, 34, Maribel, Tuesday on charges of breaking a window and ransacking tellers' drawers at the Maribel State Bank in Manitowoc County Sept. 27 last year. Authorities said nothing was taken in the break-in.

The jury returned indictments against seven other persons, including Terron L. Leinen, 24, of Kenosha, Ill., who was charged with theft of 14 cases of shrimp from an interstate truck shipment.

Midshipmen Must Close Down Farm

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The midshipman's store at the U.S. Naval Academy, source of everything from uniforms to trinkets, is going out of the dairy business.

The Department of Navy confirmed today that it had ordered the store to phase out its dairy farm operation.

The farm at Cambrills 10 miles away, involves a herd of 682 Holstein-Friesian cows and produces 1,100 gallons of milk daily sold strictly to the academy.

The operation started in 1911, has been under fire for some years by Maryland congressmen, prodded by local dairy men who feel the farm is unfair competition.

been expected to take some such action.

Tshombe took office July 8, 1964, after returning from a year's exile in Europe following the defeat of his Katanga secession by United Nations forces. He returned to a country torn by rebellion. Ignoring African opinion, he hired white mercenary troops who have succeeded in bringing the rebels under control in much of the Congo.

Public Safety
Tshombe's "government of public safety" has included nine politicians of widely divergent views. Only one chance occurred in the lineup during the last year, when Kasavubu replaced Tshombe's close associate, Interior Minister Godefroid Munongo, with Nendaka. Kasavubu made the change over Tshombe's objections.

Nendaka used his Cabinet post to form a new political party, the Congolese Democratic Front. Tshombe heads the Congolese party.

Kasavubu in his speech said the composition of Tshombe's government did not conform to the constitutional norms, the election results or the imperative political equilibrium in the country.

He added that the concentration of Cabinet portfolios — Tshombe had six — had been necessary to restore a measure of normal life but now was a handicap to effective control of administrative activities.

Smasher Site Remains Undecided

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, after hearing a plea from Midwestern governors in quest of a proposed $348 million atom smasher project, said Tuesday selection of a site is still open.

We obviously are faced with a difficult decision," Glenn T. Seaborg told the governors of Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin. Seaborg said the AEC had not expected the flood of 126 proposals from 36 states when it decided to canvass the nation for a site, but added, "We are going to do the best we can. We're looking for the best site in the United States."

The AEC chairman addressed his remarks to a delegation of congressmen and members of the Midwest Resources Association, headed by Minnesota Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag. Rolvaag, Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles and Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes argued for selection of a Midwest site in a presentation before the full commission.

Kimberly Votes For School Bond Proposal

Industrial Arts, Music Departments, Second Floor in Plans

KIMBERLY — Voters of School District No. 6 voted Tuesday 357 to 97 to authorize the board of education to float a $125,000 bond issue with which to finance additions to the industrial arts and music departments at the senior high school and complete the second floor at the school.

The work is to be completed for the 1966-67 school year which will permit the second floor of the high school to be utilized by lower elementary grade students living in the vicinity of the school. Completion of the floor is necessary to provide the school district with extra rooms as an anticipated 200 second graders will not be attending Holy Name Grade School next year, but will remain in the public school system.

The board of education now must approve plans as submitted by Sauter and Seaborn, architects for the project, and will confer with T. G. Evenson and Associates to determine the best time to sell the bonds, thus getting a more favorable interest rate.

A schedule of bond repayment will also be worked out by the T. G. Evenson firm, experts in the field of financial planning and bonds. The board of education will discuss the bond issue at the next meeting.

Pioneers Will Get Counselling

Train Council Clinic Set for Appleton Saturday

The national commander of the Lutheran Pioneers, Inc., and members of the national council will conduct a Train Council Clinic Saturday at St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran Church, beginning at 1:15 p.m.

Train Council members of Lutheran Pioneer Trains from Papendland and the Two Rivers districts will attend. Carl Meitner, district commander of Papendland District announced that invitations were sent to 43 congregations in his district, in addition to those sent out by the district commander of Two Rivers.

Purpose of the clinic is to inform council members and future members of more effective ways they can aid in supporting their individual Trains through counseling and guiding the Lutheran youth program.

Presenting the program will be Bruce Thompson, national commander, of Burlington; George Guhr, chairman of the national council, of Tess Corners, and Frank Voss, assistant national commander, Burlington.

Members of the Lutheran Girl Pioneers Caravan Councils of the area will also attend this meeting.

KAUKAUNA — The board of education Tuesday approved a 1966 budget of $1,575,246, an increase of $296,399 over the current year's budget.

Included in the budget for next year are operating expenses totaling $1,309,886 and a bonded debt retirement of $265,360. Last year's $1,278,847 budget consisted of $1,188,436 in operating expenses and $190,410 in debt retirement.

The total school district tax levy for 1966 will be $1,249,700, an increase of $182,862 over the present year's. Estimated aids and other revenues bring the 1966 operating budget down to $984,340.

The increased tax levy is due to teacher salary increases and operation of the new junior high and elementary school. Salaries will increase by $107,112, with new school operational costs to hit $75,000.

Parking Unit Gives Budget To Appleton

The Appleton Parking Commission Tuesday night received a parking meter department request for a 1966 budget of $71,255.

The request includes a $34,055 operating budget, a proposed capital outlay of $627,200 and $110,000 for debt payments.

Walter Rasmussen, city planner, said the city should increase the number of stalls at the east and west parking ramps prior to the reconstruction of College Avenue. A total of 350 stalls would be added to the ramps.

The possibility of constructing a parking ramp adjacent to Soldier's Square as an alternative was discussed. Rasmussen said a facility for 460 cars could be constructed that constructed Mayor Clarence someone stole a new bow from Mitchell said he preferred to the trunk of his car while it was parked near a Greenville property in the area, including the land on the corner of S. Oneida and W. Lawrence streets.

Principal reason for the salary increases is the addition of seven new teachers receiving five-ninths of a year's pay in the first five months of 1966 and 11 new teachers receiving four-ninths of a year's pay in the last four months.

Kaukauna's share of the increased tax levy will be $125,477, an increase of slightly more than $4 on the tax roll based on last year's assessment when each $28,000 of assessment brought in about $1 in taxes. The total Kaukauna levy is $498,791.

Other areas in the district and their levies and changes include Town of Harrison, $82,082, up $14,932; Town of Buchanan, $70,192, up $12,348; Town of Vandenberg, $57,772, up $13,203; Town of Woodville, $26,465, up $4,521; Town of Holland, $25,048, up $3,543; Town of Kaukauna, $17,296, up $2,457, and Little Chute, $22,051, up $6,378.

The proposed budget lists $27,895 for general control, compared with $27,006 in 1965. The category includes administrator, board, clerical and supply salaries and costs. Instructional costs, library supplies, books and equipment, are listed at $922,734 for 1966 compared with $803,849 in 1965, an increase of $118,840. Teachers' salaries, alone in this category amount to a $110,923 increase.

Plant operation for 1966 is listed at $125,133, compared with $113,504 in 1965. This includes custodial staff salaries, fuel, utilities and operational supplies.

Cost of maintenance work for 1966 is listed at $21,700, down from $22,133 in 1965. Auxiliary services, including school lunch and health services, were set at $82,995 for 1966, compared with $81,322 in 1965.

Insurance costs are expected to increase from $23,582 to $25,050 in 1966 and transportation costs, due to more students, will be increased from $45,059 to $46,920. Capital outlays were set at $25,200 for 1966, about $19,000 less than the $44,951 in the 1965 budget. Cost of education and transportation for handicapped children was increased from $26,979 in 1965 to $27,000 in 1966.

The City of Appleton, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Neenah and Menasha will be represented at an

Oct. 25 meeting when the area vocational school is deliberated.

Bertram Landed The finance committee, serving as a board of budget examiners, lauded Bertram and the Vocational School Board, for the manner in which the annual budgets have been prepared.

"Regardless of what happens to be the situation, Mr. Bertram has always demonstrated ability to overcome problems and come up with a fine budget," commented Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th).

On behalf of the finance committee he thanked Bertram and the board for "their usual" fine job and complete budget analysis which helps hold the tax levy down.

In presenting his budget, Bertram said the money requested was to finance operation of the school for the 18-month period since no request was made for

'900 in 1966 The proposed budget also lists $3,356 to make up a 1965 budget deficit.

State aids in 1966 are expected to amount to $111,920, compared with $103,295 in 1965, reflecting an increased student enrollment. County aid is expected to increase from $13,300 to $14,350, handicapped aid from $15,608 to $16,800, transportation aid from $14,495 to $16,814 and non-resident tuition from $29,955 to $37,813.

A 1965 utility tax brought in $22,900, with $26,000 anticipated in 1966. School lunch and milk receipts from students and federal aid are expected to increase from $77,768 to $82,500. Miscellaneous receipts, including book rentals, locker fees, towel fees, National Defense Education Act receipts and others amounted to $19,360 in 1965 and are listed at $19,350 in 1966.

Total equalized valuation of the district for 1966 is $91,457,300, an increase of $4,569,900 over the current year. The tax rate for 1966 is about $13.66 per $1,000 equalized valuation.

Fox Cities to Decide if Vocational School for Area to be Developed

Appleton Institution Submits 1966 Budget Request of $116,604

Representatives of five Fox Cities communities will meet later this month to decide whether to develop an area vocational school, it was disclosed Tuesday night. Numerous meetings on the subject have been held in the past.

Carl G. Bertram, director of the Appleton School of Vocational and Adult Education, touched on the upcoming meeting briefly when he met with the city council's finance committee.

Bertram submitted a 1966 budget, actually covering an 18-month period, which calls for a $116,604 (64-cent) levy, the lowest in 38 years.

The City of Appleton, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Neenah and Menasha will be represented at an

Oct. 25 meeting when the area vocational school is deliberated.

Outagamie Told to Resubmit Port Plan

County Project High on State's Priority List

Officials 'Pleased' With FAA Action on Request for Aid

State Aeronautics Commission

Director Thomas K. Jordan said this morning he is "pleased" to hear of Tuesday's action by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) in regard to the Outagamie County request for federal aid on the crosswind runway project.

At the same time, Jordan revealed that "since last August, the Outagamie County project has moved well up on the priority list of Wisconsin airport projects" and that the state aviation agency already has scheduled the maximum amount of state aid for the second runway at the Outagamie airport.

After hearing about Tuesday's conference in the office of Republican Eighth District Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay, which resulted in Outagamie County being told by Cole Morrow, the FAA's director of Airport Services, to immediately resubmit its application for matching federal funds, Jordan said, "We're happy to know our congressmen are concerned about the allocation of funds in Wisconsin. This will be very helpful to us in Madison."

Pressure on FAA Jordan also revealed to The Post-Crescent the state agency has been pressuring the FAA to reconsider its action on the Outagamie County Airport project as well as other state airport projects.

"All we've asked the FAA to do in regard to Outagamie County," Jordan said, "is not to tie this project up because of the pending federal court case on

Strike Hurt Development Of River Park

The recently-settled strike of union truck drivers against Valley Contractors Material Suppliers Association has resulted in a six-month delay of the Bellare Park development project, the Appleton Park Commission said Tuesday.

The Appleton Park Board Tuesday was scheduled to open bids on Bellare Park projects. However, there were no bids. Board members felt this was due to the backlog of work. Fox Cities contractors have followed the 45-day strike which ended Monday.

The Bellare project includes construction of a shelter building, two parking lots, one for use as an ice skating rink in the winter, development of the river front, seeding and grading. The board expects $65,000 will be spent on the project. A total of $125,000 has been allocated for park development.

With little hope of getting the project underway before cold weather, the board decided to wait until next spring to advertise for bids. William Wachten-donk, board president, said the board will advertise for bids in March and open them in April.

'Immediate Reconsideration' For 2nd Runway Proposal, FAA Tells County Officials

WASHINGTON — Prospects for Outagamie County's getting a second, or "crosswind" runway at its new airport in the Town of Greenville are on the bright side again today.

The bright prospects are the result of a special meeting here Tuesday afternoon in the offices of Eighth District Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay. Byrnes, along with Outagamie County officials and Delmar C. Drumm, executive secretary of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce, arranged the meeting with top echelon representatives of the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA).

The results of the session were that Cole Morrow, director of the FAA's Airport Services Division, advised Outagamie County to ask for immediate reconsideration of the crosswind runway application which had been deferred by the FAA six weeks ago.

'Latest Information' Morrow told Drumm and Outagamie County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath that the county should present to the board will advertise for bids in March and open them in April.

and potential aviation at the new airport, along with supporting economic data, all aimed at justifying the crosswind runway based on general aviation needs.

County officials, Byrnes, Seventh District Rep. Melvin Laird-R-Marshfield, and representatives from the offices of Wisconsin Democratic Sens. William Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson, were told by Morrow that when the FAA receives the information from the county, the federal agency will give "immediate reconsideration to the request and the end result will depend on the priority assigned and the funds available."

Drumm and county officials received assurances that the FAA's first action in August was not a denial of the request for matching federal funds, but merely a deferment of the request because of what were considered "higher priorities" at that time.

Estimated cost of the project, which would be a 5,200-foot by 100-foot runway running in a northeast-southwest direction, would be $910,000. Approval by the FAA would result in the federal government paying half the project cost.

With a second runway, Outagamie County Airport will be on the verge of being an all-weather port. The present southeast-northwest runway, which is 5,200-feet long and 150 feet wide, is destined to become the "ILS" (Instrument Landing System) runway when more funds become available.

After the county receives approval from the FAA on the Valley Council to Go Ahead With Work On Memorial Center

Appointement of a building committee to work with the architect in planning the Mowry Smith Sr. Memorial Service Center for the Valley Boy Scout Council has been announced by George Banta III, council president.

Richard VanSistine, council vice president was named chairman. Serving with VanSistine will be Ralph T. Suess Sr., Menasha, Robert L. Rahn, Little Chute, Dr. James Curry, Appleton, and Joseph A. Foley, Appleton.

Funds to construct the office building have been sought over the past few months in a capital funds campaign, with improvements to Gardner Dam Camp and the training center on Gibson Island also planned. Sufficient pledges are at hand to begin the service center project and it is anticipated that late returns from campaign workers will make possible completion of other projects.

Don MacDougal, New Brunswick, N.J., assistant national director of the engineering service of the Boy Scouts of America, will visit the council in Appleton Friday to brief the building committee and consult with the architect Sauter and Seaborn. MacDougal specializes in studies of new council office buildings and layouts in order to gather and make available to local council the best current thinking and experience on the subject.

The engineering service will provide basic manuals and design sheets for study by the local group and will assist in reviewing plans so that the local committee may receive the benefit of country-wide experience. The services are available to the local council as a part of the benefits which come with national affiliation.

Appleton Official Attending Convention At LaCrosse This Week

Roger LaBerge, Appleton sealer of wheat and measures, will play a leading role at the Wisconsin Association of Sealers Conference at LaCrosse today through Friday.

LaBerge is president of the organization, admitted to the League of Wisconsin Municipalities last year.

State and federal officials will appear on the convention program, discussing a variety of subjects with emphasis on consumer protection.

Fox Valley Symphony Sounds First Note of Organization, Plans Survey

NEENAH-MENASHA — The first note in making plans for a symphony in the Fox Valley area sounded this week when men and women interested in playing and listening to good music met to take a look at the possibilities.

The first order of the play is to survey the number of adult musicians in the Fox Valley area including Oshkosh, New London, Clintonville, Menasha, Neenah, Appleton, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute, Comond, De Pere, Winneconne, Omro, Waupaca, and all the towns and villages in between.

Adults who play strings, winds and percussion are asked to complete in a mail survey if they are interested in playing in a symphony orchestra in 1966. Musicians are asked to write their name, address, telephone number, name of their instrument and the names of instrumental groups in which they have played and send the information to Symphony Survey, Box 431, Neenah. It is asked that this information be sent on or before Monday, Oct. 25.

There has been talk of such a musical organization for a number of years, leavened by the growing numbers of high school graduates in the area who have the musicianship experience in band and orchestra. Many are staying here or returning to the area after college and their abilities are unused, organizers said.

Added to this growing number are the men and women in business, teaching, industry and homes who play well but have put their instruments aside because there is "no outlet" for their skills and talents.

60-Member Orchestra
The thinking of the first planning group is to have a 60 member orchestra, or larger; hire a conductor and assistant conductor, a business manager and principals in the violin, viola, cello and bass sections.

It is hoped that symphony concerts will be played in the spring of 1966. In the years which follow a number of concerts will be prepared and will be presented in cities in the area which have adequate facilities.

Support of a symphony is one of the prime considerations and a plan for soliciting patrons of the symphony through individuals and industry is being considered.

After the survey is complete a meeting will be called to consider the next step.

Members of the temporary planning committee are Donald Wisniewski, Menasha; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gruetzman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schubert, Mr. and Mrs. John Helms, William J. Widdie, Bruce Feldt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Congdon, Mrs. Warren Schroeder and Mrs. Jack Casper, Neenah.

Menasha Man Fights Principle Of Assessments

MENASHA — As a matter of principle and about $50 a year in taxes, a 28-year-old Menasha man appeared before a State Department of Taxation board here Tuesday to fight the city's system of assessing his property.

"I have no objection to paying taxes, but I want to pay on an equal basis with everybody else," argued Lyle Gabrielson, who lives in a new house at 636 11th St.

He explained that he wouldn't have minded an assessment of 10 per cent above the value of the home, but said his was 18 per cent out of line, or "radical" out of proportion.

Area Students Officers at UW

MENASHA — Keith Gibson, son of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Gibson, 525 E. Front St., Appleton, was elected student senate president for 1965-66 in recent balloting at the Fox Valley University Center. Gibson, a sophomore, repeated at the election position he held in his first year at the center.

The other officers of the student governing body include Barbara Arndt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Arndt, 235 Oak St., Menasha, vice president; Carol Klutke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klutke, 2907 S. Carpenter St., Appleton, secretary; and Dick Lashua, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Lashua, 1520 S. Park Drive, Neenah, treasurer.

The newly elected student senators are Ron Bieber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Bieber, 615 Madison Ave., Omro; Walt Wochos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wochos, 1616 N. Nicholas St., Appleton; Karen Leitermann, 646 Kuborn Ave., Kimberly; Bill Vanoss, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Vanoss, 141 Western Ave., Neenah; and Bob Van Dyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Van Dyke, 120 E. Atlantic St., Appleton.

Mrs. Wisconsin Makes First Visit To Madison, Greets Assemblymen

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — "It is a funny thing to admit, but I have never been to Madison before," said the charming lady on the podium of the state Assembly.

But on her first trip, Mrs. Wisconsin was doing the capital up right. Speaking to the lower house of the legislature, Mrs. Richard Hands of Neenah Tuesday continued on her way about her adopted state representing its married women — and their husbands.

A special guest speaker in the Assembly, Betty Hands told the legislators that she represented the many women of the Badger state who take an interest in the world around them, as well as the world of the home. She was the Mrs. America contest. Part introduced to the legislators by of the prize was a 10-day trip a close family friend and her to the national event and the assemblyman, David Martin of right to represent the state's married women until next Mother's Day.

Despite her newness to the state capital, Mrs. Hands is no stranger to the world of politics. She takes an active role in the League of Women Voters and a chance to see those parts of Wisconsin as well as working in party politics during campaign.

"I only had 24 hours to pack between being named Mrs. Wisconsin and my departure for the Mrs. America contest in San Diego in August," she said. "But I made sure that I carried plenty of Wisconsin cheese and paper products to give away to the other women there."

With a glance and a smile at the Milwaukee delegation in the assembly, she added, "I'm only University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley sorry that there was not enough ley Center. She was planning, time to pack some Wisconsin until her selection, to study full-time this fall."

Mrs. Hands is enjoying her first trip to the state, it is giving her a chance to see those parts of Wisconsin as well as working in party politics during campaign.

Since that time she has been planning to return to school. She later took courses at Miami University of Ohio, and last year she enrolled in a course at the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley.

New Officers Installed by Catholic Unit

J. F. Theisen
Chief Ranger of Order of Foresters

Joseph F. Theisen, 901 Parkway Blvd., was installed Tuesday evening as chief ranger of Appleton Court No. 132, Catholic Order of Foresters.

Clarence H. Van Ryzin, past chief ranger and a legion of honor member of the Appleton court, performed installation duties at the Catholic Club. The court is starting its 77th year here as a fraternal Catholic insurance group.

Theisen and other new officers will complete plans for events scheduled for 1965. Events include the annual memorial communion Oct. 31, the 76th anniversary dinner Nov. 13, the fifth Tuesday Social, Nov. 30, the members' Christmas party Dec. 14, and the Rangers' Christmas party Dec. 19.

Other new officers installed at the Tuesday night meeting were Edward F. Smudde, vice chief ranger and youth director; Edward J. Bartman, past chief ranger; Roy Urban Mueller, Capuchin St. Joseph Friary, spiritual director; Daniel J. Smudde, treasurer; Joseph F. Kraus, recording secretary.

Otto A. Gandt, financial secretary; Joseph R. Wachuta, speaker; Adrian T. Thibodeau, senior conductor; Donald J. Bushman, junior conductor; Peter G. Whydowski, inside sentinel; Peter L. Berg, trustee; Roy A. Van Ryzin, trustee and Bernard A. Bloch, trustee.

Bob Kennedy Asks China be Invited to Geneva Arms Talks

Senator Calls for Accelerated Effort in Halt of Nuclear Spread

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy proposed today that Communist China be invited to join in Geneva talks aimed at an agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Kennedy, a New York Democrat, called in a prepared Senate speech for accelerated U.S. efforts to "enlist the help of the United Nations, and all other nations — including Communist China — in the effort to prevent nuclear catastrophe."

Asserting that "China could pass on nuclear capability to nations which do not have it now," Kennedy said that it may be possible to win some agreement despite the hostility of Red China's leaders to the United States.

Persuade Leaders

"The rulers of China may be persuaded that their long run interest like that of the United States and all other nations, lies not in the spread of nuclear weapons but in their strict control," Kennedy said.

"We are now engaged in regular discussions with the Chinese ambassador in Warsaw. But these are not the only possible means to explore possible Chinese accession to a system of nuclear control. We should at the outset, invite the Chinese to participate in the disarmament talks at Geneva when those talks resume in January."

"If they accept, the negotiations will be more meaningful — for they will then include all the nuclear powers. If the Chinese refuse, we will have lost nothing. We will have opened another door to peace, and the Chinese will show to the world that they are not interested. I think no one, looking at U.S. foreign policy since 1961, will interpret our civility as a sign of weakness."

Must Try

He added "We can never know the results until we make the attempt."

In a wide-ranging survey of the world situation, Kennedy called for (1) greater U.S. flexibility in negotiating with Russia on a nonproliferation nuclear treaty, (2) creation of nuclear free zones, especially in Latin America, (3) extension of the limited nuclear test ban treaty to cover underground explosions and (4) action to reverse the U.S. and Russian growth of nuclear capability.

NATO Arms Force

Kennedy praised steps that President Johnson has taken in this field. When he called for more effort to prevent the proliferation of nuclear weapons several months ago, the White House comment was that it was glad Kennedy was also interested in this effort.

Kennedy said the proposed nuclear-armed multilateral force for North Atlantic Treaty Organization may not be the best solution to providing security for Europe. He contended that because it would give Germany indirect access to nuclear capability, it may be blocking Soviet agreement to a nonproliferation treaty.

But he said President Charles de Gaulle's insistence on developing an independent French nuclear force "must inevitably lead other European nations to feel that they must develop national nuclear forces." He said these might include Germany.

He expressed the hope that India would not turn to nuclear weapons as the answer to its differences with Pakistan. He said more specific steps are needed to guarantee India's security than President Johnson's promise to defend Asian nations against nuclear blackmail.

Knowles Opposed

Gov. Warren P. Knowles said Monday that he opposed the raises for elected officials. A Democratic member of the finance committee, Assemblyman Mark Lipscomb of Milwaukee, disagreed with the Republican chief executive.

"I believe the governor should make more than any other official or state department head," Lipscomb said.

The bill was introduced in the State Senate last Wednesday through the Joint Finance Committee. Constitutional officers, including the governor and lieutenant governor, would not receive the increases until after the 1966 election, but the raises for department heads would become effective Jan. 1.

The pay raises bill sets these increases for constitutional officers:

Governor, from $25,000 to $30,000; attorney general and superintendent of public instruction, each from $20,000 to $22,500; secretary of state and treasurer, each from $13,500 to $14,500 and lieutenant governor, from $7,500 to $10,000.

The Choice Is Up to You

Discovery of America Becomes Nordic, Italian Partisan Question

NEW YORK (AP) — As every child knows, America was discovered by — in —

The blanks are left for the partisans to fill in the name and year, and don't be surprised if the answer isn't always Christopher Columbus in 1492.

Columbus' traditional role as the discoverer of America is being stoutly defended by Italian-Americans — and is being as stoutly assailed by Scandinavian-Americans.

The Italian-Americans had been looking forward to celebrating another Columbus Day Tuesday when — like a Viking raid — Leif Ericson turned up to spoil it.

Yale University announced on Sunday that a map its historians had been studying for eight years was authentic and that it indicated Ericson had explored America — Vinland — centuries before Columbus.

Scandinavians, who had contended this for years, took up the cry. Others said perhaps it was an Irishman, St. Brendan, or maybe even one Erik Mendelbaum, suggested a Pennsylvania legislator.

At a Columbus Day spoof thrown in New York Tuesday night by the Norwegian Club, Crown Prince Harald of Norway dipped a long Viking oar into the controversy.

Who discovered America? "Leif Ericson, that's all we've been taught in school," answered the prince, here on an extended visit.

Harald accepted from the two Yale professors who sparked the debate a copy of their book, "Vinland and the Tartar Relation."

The book, by Thomas E. Marston, curator of medieval and Renaissance literature, and Alex O. Vietor, curator of maps, includes a 1440 map showing Ericson's voyages to America.

The prince joked that someone had said the discovery of America by Ericson was "obviously a Communist plot, because Leif Ericson was the son of Eric the Red."

At Columbus' birthplace in Genoa, Italy, officials were a little skeptical of the Scandinavian claims.

"Ever so often somebody runs up with that old rumor about the Vikings' trip to the New World," said Mayor Augusto Pedullà. But this journey — if it ever occurred at all — represents nothing for human history. It is such a faraway and vague event that it does not even constitute a modest historical fact.

Writing in the Detroit Free Press, James P. Dooler said:

It was an Irishman who discovered America. Every Irishman knows it was St. Brendan who got here first — Philadelphia said. "Some grave doubts were placed in my mind about this matter, but now I find that aboard Leif Ericson's boat was a man named Erik Mendelbaum."

And at a Columbus Day celebration in Harrisburg, Pa., State Rep. Herbert Fineman of

Cosmonauts Boomed on Visit To West Berlin

Red Paint Thrown at Car on Trip Through City's French Sector

BERLIN (AP) — The visit of two Soviet cosmonauts to West Berlin ended Tuesday night with an anti-Communist demonstration and red paint splattered on their limousine.

Lt. Col. Alexei Leonov, the first man to walk in space, and his partner, Col. Pavel Beluyev, had to change to a smaller car to return to East Berlin.

The two spacemen and their wives came to the city for a rally given by the West Berlin German-Soviet Friendship Society.

The cosmonauts complete a 10-day visit to East Germany today.

On their arrival outside a film theater in the French sector, the visitors were greeted by boos and whistles from several hundred demonstrators, some of whom beat on the big limousine. Police forced the crowds back. Inside the theater about 900 persons applauded warmly as the cosmonauts told about their space voyage last March and spoke of peaceful Soviet intentions.

Friendship Chant

Several times the audience admitted by invitation only, broke out with the chant "Friendship! Friendship!"

After the cosmonauts and their wives left the rally and got into their black limousine about this matter, but now I find that aboard Leif Ericson's boat was a man named Erik Mendelbaum."

Amid more boos and whistles,

'Celestial Sight of Century' Spectacular Comet Is Visible in Predawn Sky

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — A discovered it Sept. 23, was the newly discovered comet, bright as the Big Dipper, appears in the sky today.

The spectacle is expected to build to a peak in about eight days, when the comet reaches its closest point to the sun.

During that time early risers across the nation will have the chance to see an historic celestial display, beginning daily about an hour before sunrise.

Anthony F. Aveni, director of the College University Observatory, said Tuesday that the first view would develop into "the most colossal celestial spectacle of the 20th century."

The peak of the spectacle, Aveni said, will come about Oct. 21, when the comet will be in a spiraling death dance as it passes within 20,000 miles of the sun's surface.

Gone Forever

"It could be broken up into smaller units," Aveni said. "In any event after one pass at the sun it will be gone forever never to return."

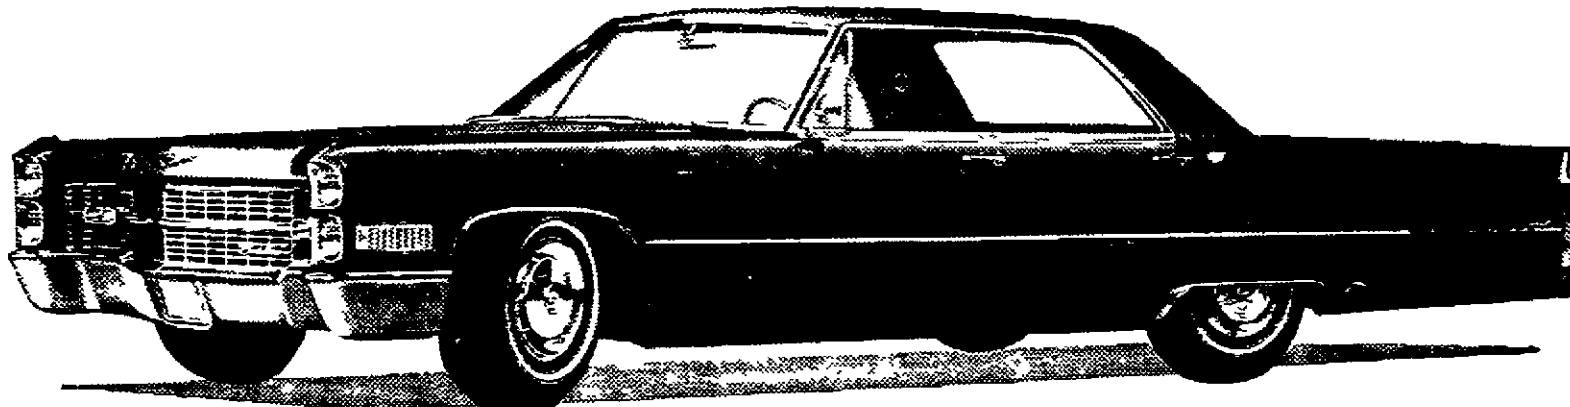

He noted that the Ikeya-Seki comet, named after two Japanese amateur astronomers who the demonstrators held up three placards. Two of them read "61 refugees shot at the wall" and "The wall must go."

The third placard showed a big photo of Peter Fechter, 18, an East German left to bleed to death in 1962 by guards on the East Berlin side of the wall dividing the city. The shooting of Fechter caused serious rioting in West Berlin.

Airline Against Air Agency Revamp Plan

Claims Proposal Would Give Control To Private Pilots

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON The state's principal air carrier has complained to the state senate that an assembly-approved bill to reorganize the state aeronautics commission would hand over policy control in state aviation matters to private airplane pilots.

The statement came from North Central Airlines as the state senate committee on governmental affairs considered at a public hearing the reorganization measure sponsored by a group of leading Democrats and Republicans, including Sen. Robert P. Knowles, leader of the governor and Republican majority leader of the upper house.

The commission now consists of five members, appointed from among "qualified" persons by the governor without other restrictions except a requirement for state senate confirmation. The executive officer of the department is T. K. Jordan. The agency has been the target of occasional criticism for its activities, but there is no indication that the reorganization measure has the backing of the administration of Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

Robert Sundby of the airline said it has no objection to the idea of reorganizing the state agency, but believes that all interested elements ought to be represented on its policy-making board.

As the assembly sent the bill to the senate, it provided for five members of the board chosen from among private citizens, including two holding pilot licenses, and three members of the legislature. Sundby said the three legislators who would be chosen would probably be pilots also, with an apparent reference to the fact that the principal authors of the reorganization plan are fliers and owners of their own aircraft.

North Central offered an amendment that would require appointments to represent air carriers, pilots, industrial aviation users, the general public, and municipalities operating airports.

Sen. Reuben LaFave of Oconto, chairman of the hearing committee, said the measure would be held in committee pending further study and an expected statement from Assemblyman Curtis McKay of Ozaukee county, a flier and an author of the reorganization bill.

Fox Cities to Make Decision On School

The current six months ending Dec. 31, 1965.

Change to Calendar Year
This year the school goes to a calendar year rather than a school year due to the expansion of the district which now includes Appleton, Grand Chute and parts of the Towns of Harrison, Burman and Menasha.

Bertram explained the $136,044 loss is $61,947 less than a year ago.

The amount requested from the City of Appleton is $102,761 or $78,761 less than a year ago.

The possibility of an area school poses many problems making these somewhat difficult, Bertram said.

He explained the school is operating under the handicap of limited facilities with some programs curtailed, but the total educational service has been greatly expanded.

Bertram said the vocational school expected to operate within the budget adopted.

The school has taken advantage of several federal programs, Bertram said, resulting in considerable income from grants.

Mrs. Hilda Ziesemer, Wife of Mr. Olive Pastor, Dies at 70

Mrs. Hilda C. Ziesemer, 70, wife of the Rev. E. E. Ziesemer, pastor of Mt. Olive Lutheran Church, died Tuesday afternoon after an extended illness.

Mrs. Ziesemer was a lifetime resident of Appleton and was a member of the Ladies Aid Society of Mt. Olive Church. She is survived by her husband, one son, daughter, Mrs. Elroy (Charlotte) Spitzer, Minneda, N.Y.; two sons, the Rev. R. D. Ziesemer, Milwaukee, and Paul M. Ziesemer, Kenosha; two sisters and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Mt. Olive Church, with the Rev. Paul T. Ochelt, Kaukauna, and the Rev. E. J. Greve, Appleton, officiating. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery.

Friends may call after 3 p.m. Friday at Bretschneider-Tretz Funeral Home. A memorial has been established for Fox Valley Lutheran High School.

Car Not Registered; Motorist Fined $150

OSHKOSH — Paul A. Wesner, 42, route 1, Berlin, was fined $150 and costs Wednesday in statement from Assemblyman Curtis McKay of Ozaukee county, a flier and an author of the reorganization bill.

He was arrested by county police Oct. 4.

Mrs. Mae Hall, Appleton Police Department meter maid, finds that going through some 15,000 overdue parking tickets can be quite a task. Mrs. Hall and other workers inherited the job of going through the tickets, some of them

Public Safety Committee Approves Plan to Upgrade Street Lighting

Total Cost of Mercury Vapor Lamps Set at $102,006, Would Replace 1,447 Lamps

The public safety committee Tuesday approved a five-year plan to upgrade Appleton's street lighting system.

Under the plan, mercury vapor lights would replace the incandescent units used in most of the city.

A total of 1,447 incandescent units would be replaced with 175-hp. mercury vapor units at a cost of $54 each per unit. The total cost would be $78,132. Two incandescent units would be replaced with 400-watt mercury vapor units at $78 each per unit, for a total of $15,162. The 137 400-watt units already in use would be retained at a cost of $78 each per unit for a total of $10,656.

Total Cost
Total annual cost of the new system would be $102,006. Annual cost of the existing system is $81,536. Net increase over five years would be $20,470. The changeover would begin as soon as possible if approved by the council.

The committee delayed action on the police department's request for eight additional men. Committee members told Police Chief Earl Wolff they would consider approving the hiring of four additional men if the chief could prevent the budget committee with explicit examples where the department is weak.

Ald. John Ayers (12th) expressed the committee's feeling when he told Wolff he would be "inclined to go along with an increase if concrete examples" of actual need "can be presented at the budget hearing."

The committee received and filed a letter from the Professional Fire Fighters' Association informing the city of its intent to open for alterations.

Parking Plan Finalized by Committee

NEENAH — Plans for 10-hour parking meter permits were finalized by the public protection committee Tuesday evening with the first lot being opened under the meter plan scheduled Nov. 1.

The first lot to be completed and put into service under the parking meter plan will be the Presbyterian Church lot at Doty Avenue and Church Street.

The proposed $4 parking permit sticker will be a different color each month, with one inch high outline punctured designating the month and year the permit is valid.

The sticker will be placed in the rear window except on commercial vehicles where it will be displayed on the windshield.

Sales of stickers will be from the city treasurer's office with sales at his office or at the police department.

The committee will recommend to the council that Charles Schaller, city attorney, be instructed to amend the traffic code to permit the sale and use of the monthly permits.

The public protection committee stressed the fact the permits will be honored at 10-hour parking meters and on street facilities only. Two-hour meters will require putting money in the meter.

An agreement was made for operating the Presbyterian Church lot was approved by the committee and it will be recommended to the council to enter into agreement with the church.

Funds received from the lot will be returned to maintenance and amortization of the facility. The remaining funds will be divided between the city and the church. The church will receive 60 per cent. The 40 per cent received by the city will be full compensation for taxes and police and fire protection.

County Project High on State's Priority List

the CAB's (Civil Aeronautics Board) North Central Airlines regional airport stops investigation.

"The FAA originally deferred action on the Outagamie request," the state aviation agency director said, "pending the outcome of the court case. What we've done is to remind the FAA that the Outagamie request is based strictly on general aviation needs and that commercial airline service has nothing to do with the request."

Apron, Taxiway
The State of Wisconsin originally had requested state airport project aids totaling about $1.6 million, but federal approval only covered about $220,000 of them.

Another project the state agency is pushing for is $199,000 for a new apron and a re-vamping of the taxiway system at Billy Mitchell Field in Milwaukee.

It is not known yet how much federal money will be allocated to Outagamie County if the $910,000 project is approved. The FAA has authority to pay 50 per cent of the cost of airport projects which are eligible in the agency's opinion.

Then the agency pays 50 per cent of the costs of the projects it approves in the central business district for the 1965 Christmas season.

Referred for action to Police Chief Wolff a request from the public library to provide safety measures for pedestrians at the walk across S. Oneida Street in front of the library.

Resubmit Project
Jordan said the county will have to resubmit the project to the state agency and then the state can approve the request and pass it on to the FAA's area office in Minneapolis.

Chances are good, Jordan and county officials agree, that if approval comes quickly, the county will be able to advertise for construction contracts and let bids this fall. This would allow construction to begin early next spring.

Regardless of how much federal money may become available and what Outagamie County's share of the costs will be, it will have no effect on the 1966 county budget being worked out now.

The county has about $400,000 left in its airport fund. If the project is approved, the county will learn just how much federal money is available and will be able to determine what the county's share of the cost is.

The balance of the project cost is expected to be financed by obtaining a long-term loan from the principal and interest on the sale of the old airport property. The state allocation, which the county will receive, totals $300,000 for land and construction.

$4 Billion Farm Measure Gets Okay of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a precedent-setting farm bill which the Agriculture Department estimates will cost $4 billion during the 1966 crop year.

Approved earlier by the House, the measure now awaits President Johnson's signature. The key changes in this year's legislation:

1. It covers four years, the longest period ever approved by Congress for an omnibus farm measure.

2. It provides direct support payments to cotton growers who don't use their entire acreage allotment.

pendent on the cost of the airport, minus the income from sale of the old airport property. The state allocation, which the county will receive, totals $300,000 for land and construction.

Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model (to Riviera). But Riviera's not the only tuned car. LeSabre is, too. And Wildcat, Electra 225, Special, Skylark, Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See him. Double-Checked used cars, too.

Missouri Firm Awarded Pact For AHS Annual

The contract for the Appleton High School yearbook, "Clarion," was awarded to the American Yearbook Co. for its $5,694 low bid by the board of education Monday.

The board awarded the contract to the Hannibal, Mo., company after consultation with Or-High School principal, Joel Newman, yearbook advisor. There is a full-time representative in Appleton.

It also was announced that various musical instruments have been donated to the Appleton Public School music department by Carl Seeger of Appleton. They include eight violins, a junior-size viola, a string bass, two cello bows and a cello bag.

The board also set for a public open house at Einstein Junior High School. It will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Nov. 11.

My wife wants nothing but oil heat — and she's the chief!

The family's comfort is her department. If she wants oil heat because she likes the service or because it's more economical, she'll get no resistance from me. My wife says the choice of fuel suppliers means competition — and competition generally means better service. She also claims oil is more economical than most people give it credit for. She says you get more value for your money with oil — and she'll take the witness stand to prove it. One thing I like about oil is the safety. Touch a match to stored oil and nothing happens — even the match goes out! Everyone has his own feeling about fuel, but like my boss says — "get the facts." That's my real boss — he's a chief, too!

GET THE FACTS AND SEE WHY...

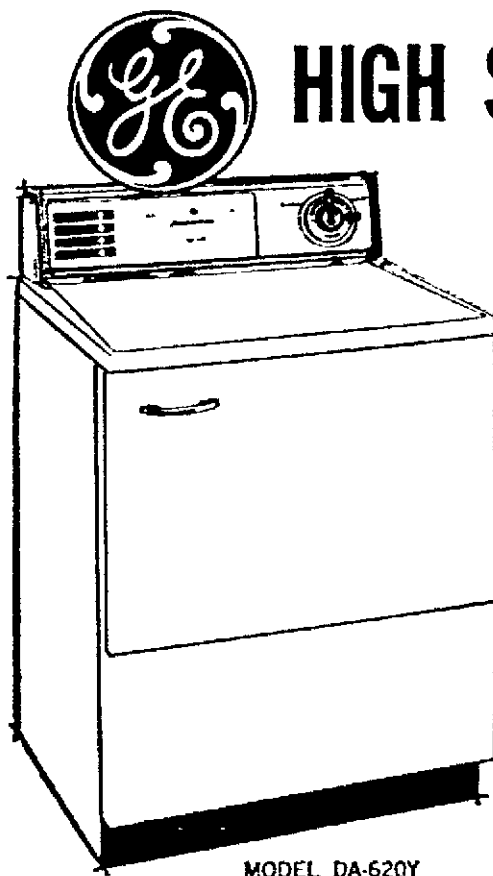

THE SWING IS "BACK TO SAFE OIL HEAT!"

Supplies Disappear At Pentagon

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — It all most staggers the imagination, but in a year's time nearly 10,000 trays have vanished without a trace from the Pentagon's cafeterias and snack bars.

What's more, some 2,000 salt and pepper shakers and nearly 1,200 sugar dispensers also have disappeared.

Throw in a horde of lost knives, forks and spoons and you run into a cost estimated in five figures.

These statistics came to light with an appeal from the Army Welfare Fund Recreation Office. It complained the losses are cutting down the money that otherwise would be coming to the fund from the proceeds of Pentagon concessions.

"Okay folks, what are you doing with the stuff?" the Army office asked in its monthly publication.

"The merchandise is disappearing faster than it takes the Beatles to get the girls screaming. At the rate it is vanishing, we all have a problem, and this includes you," it said.

The Pentagon's population of some 27,000 military and civilian workers is fed at six big cafeterias, eight snack bars and two restaurants.

The eating places are operated by private concessionaires under federal contract.

Waukesha County Reapportions

WAUKESHA (AP) — Redistricting of the board of supervisors was completed Tuesday in Waukesha County, target of original State Supreme Court ruling overturning the 115-year-old unit rule system and requiring reapportionment on a population basis.

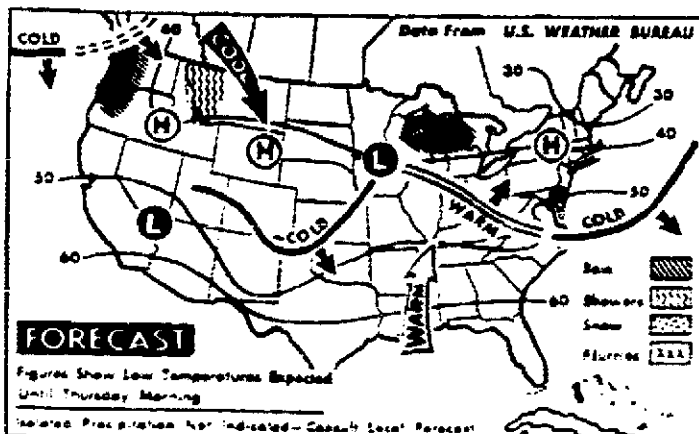

The Waukesha County Board approved 50-16 a plan cutting the number of its members from 74 to 35 next year and redistributing seats on a basis of population patterns, rather than number of governmental units. The court ruling, backed by the Legislature, came on a suit brought by two Milwaukee Sentinel editors.

Survey Underway On Locations of 1965 KHS Grads

KAUKAUNA — The guidance department at Kaukauna High School, assisted by the student council, has undertaken a survey to determine what 1965 graduates are doing.

Miss Shelby Lemke, new addition to the guidance staff this year, will direct the project. Others in the department are Mrs. Kathleen Davis, Fred Barribeau and Jerome Kroll. Student council members will contact parents or relatives of graduates by telephone and information gathered will be studied in an effort to improve the guidance program.

The survey, which will become an annual event, should point out trends in the locations and vocations of graduates. "Information of this kind can be helpful in setting up curricula and in student guidance procedures relative to further schooling or vocational planning," stated Barribeau.

Several years ago the guidance department attempted a post card follow-up of graduates, but it is hoped the student council telephone will be more effective and provide 100 per cent return.

Motorist Find After Accidents

LITTLE CHUTE — Two motorists pleaded guilty to traffic violations resulting in accidents and a third forfeited bond when failing to appear before Raymond Sanders, municipal justice, Monday night.

Victor DeGroot, 20, 621 Taylor St., Little Chute, was fined $20 for imprudent speed. He failed to negotiate a turn and struck a house Oct. 9. Richard Vande Voort, 47, 1010 Hoover St., Little Chute, was fined $10 for failure to yield right of way. He pulled from an intersection into the path of a car Oct. 6.

John C. Stoop, 78, 512 Pierce Ave., Little Chute, forfeited bond of $10 for failure to have his car under control. He was arrested after a 3-car accident Oct. 4 which resulted in minor damage to the three vehicles.

Young Democrat Chairman to Talk

Outagamie County Democrats and Young Democrats will meet jointly Thursday to hear Peter Peshek, state chairman of the Young Democrats.

Peshek, a native of Two Rivers, is a law student at the University of Wisconsin. He will meet with the county Young Dems at 7 p.m., followed by the regular meeting at 8 p.m.

The meetings have been slated for the First National Bank activity center.

100-Degree Heat Baking Southwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The arid Southwest baked in 90-and 100-degree heat and scattered frost whitened the United States from southeastern Missouri to North Carolina.

The mercury hit 86 in Tucson Tuesday, while it rose to 102 in the California desert town of Thermal.

Frost struck today between Missouri, North Carolina and the upper Great Lakes, where snow fell Tuesday. Cadillac, Mich., had a two-inch fall and blizzards whipped through other upper Great Lakes areas.

Frost which struck Maryville, Mo., accompanying a 27 degree low temperature, ended the growing season a week ahead of schedule.

Clouds blanketed the region from the Great Lakes to New England, bringing scattered showers. The situation was much the same in the far Northwest. The Gulf Coast also got some rain.

New York City's upstate reservoirs were swelled 500 million gallons by rain. The parched state absorbed 29 inches on the average, adding a half-day's supply of water to the reservoirs.

It was cool Tuesday from the southern plains and Mississippi Valley on to the Northeast.

Piano Concert Set At St. Norbert

Paul Reed, pianist of the resident artist program at St. Norbert College, will present his first concert of the school year at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in the Hall of Fine Arts auditorium.

Reed will play selections by J. S. Bach, Paul Hindemith, Franz Schubert, Frederic Chopin and Franz Liszt.

The concert is free and open to the public.

'Pickwick' Dull and Not Too Musical

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — A big cast and some whopping scenery don't make up for a bad book and misguided energy in "Pickwick," a musical that opened Monday night at Broadway's 46th Street Theater.

The show concerns the gentlemen bachelors' club which novelist Charles Dickens created with quaint wit long ago. You'd hardly recognize the old place, renovated to the exigencies of commercial show business and with tinsy vignettes made over as comic cartoons.

Harry Secombe flexing a high high tenor in the central role, leads a covey of players from London. Confronted with an awkward feeble humor adaptation of Wolf Mankowitz, Director Peter Goe uses them mostly with vaudeville degradation.

The Cyn. Orinda Love Bridgess score doesn't give much promise of lasting fame. "I'll Never Be Alone," Adam registers with a note of another good tune is "I'll Be the Word" even though it is a far cry from the story's heart.

Every man at least has a dance, but a massed chorus of multiple performers, some with routine numbers, is under-entertaining. Goe's production is an impressive assembly of scenery, supported together by Sean Kelly, Matthew's manager, and a good cast of dancers, and a good cast of dancers, and a good cast of dancers.

'Van Dyke' Has Classic On Jealousy

BY TV SCOUT

8:30-9:30-Channels 2-7-12 — "No Rite at My Wedding" on The Dick Van Dyke Show is a small classic on the subject of jealousy. Through a series of flashbacks we return to the Petries' courtship days when Laura, named Blodac Baby in an Army beauty contest, must decide between Bob (whom Mike says is "cute") in an Army uniform and a GI. (whom Mike rates as "beastly").

6:30-8:30-Channels 2-7-12 — "Lost in Space" is like the old Abbott and Costello sketch, "Who's on First?" For the first 20 minutes, the Robinsons wander all around a spooky Egyptian-like cave, constantly losing one another and calling, "Will... Penny... Debbie... Don... Dad!" Before the evening is over they also meet up with an assortment of earthquakes, storms and peculiar orbits. A routine evening.

6:30-8:30-Channels 11-6-9 — The Big her caboodle-squirm for the a dam from being constructed on the man's wife's grave. And before it's all over a lot more blood (you'll love count of the bodies) than water is spilled. (Color)

8-9-Channels 4-5 — Bob Hope Presents "Kicks," a melodrama which tells of a pretty model's unyielding love for excitement. It's doubtful if any of us has met a girl like Holly. Being her beauty is an awful lot of sadism. Not only does she not mind losing at the races, or see her caboodle-squirm for the the man's wife's grave. And before it's all over a lot more blood (you'll love count of the bodies) than water is spilled. (Color)

The extraordinary is as rare in motion pictures as it is in life ...

...yet there is no better word for "ZORBA THE GREEK." Everything about the film and, indeed, the man—is different. When Zorba talks—you listen. When Zorba drinks—you taste it. When Zorba loves—you feel it. Because this is a man who devours life as if it were a feast, a man who never puts off till tomorrow what he can enjoy today.

Here is his world, sea-bathed, sun-washed Greece... its sights, its sounds... its music, its dancing. Above all, here are its people... as proud as the silent village beauty whose desires only Zorba understood... as vulnerable as the English youth whom Zorba sent stumbling into love... as Rabelaisian as the French "Madame" who was bathed in champagne by no less than four admirals.

Anthony Quinn plays Zorba. No. Anthony Quinn is Zorba—in the most remarkable performance of his career. In the hands of award-winning director Michael Cacoyannis, the world-acclaimed novel becomes a truly extraordinary motion picture.

Will you need financial help to get employment and loans. before you finish college? If not. Colleges will often help you you are a very fortunate person work out a full program for and in the minority.

Few parents are in a position to start college should be done to pay the entire cost of college only after careful consideration educations for their children.

Want To Decide

College is an exceedingly You should be able to make worthwhile investment and you the following affirmations:

1 The college in question meets my needs and is a step toward my ultimate goal.

2 The advantage of this college over a less expensive one is worth the added strain both on myself and my family.

3 My past scholastic achievement makes it reasonable certain that I can succeed in this particular college.

4 My parents concur in the overall program for financing and will support me in my endeavor.

The largest single source of student loan funds was original set up in 1958 by Congress as the National Defense Student Loan Program. It has been broadened by subsequent Congresses and further broadening is under consideration. Loans through this program are administered by the individual colleges. Apply directly to the colleges.

You may borrow $1,000 per school year up to $5,000 for undergraduate work and $3,500 a year for graduate work. You will not be charged interest under this program until one year after you complete your college.

Three per cent interest per year on the unpaid balance will be charged commencing one year after you cease to be a full time student.

10 Years: 6

You have up to ten years to pay off the loan's principal and interest. Allowance is made for completion of military service and should you become a public school teacher you may request that part of your loan be canceled. For each year you teach, up to a maximum of five, during the 11-year repayment period, you may ask that 10 per cent of your loan be canceled.

These loans are applied for and arranged through participating colleges. You may wish to consider this as a part of your overall plan for financing.

borrow pay off the loans after graduation. United Student Aid Funds is the largest privately supported non-profit operation of its style in the United States. Students under 21 need their parents' signature for approval, but not endorsement. Repayment is the obligation of the student. The loan is covered by USIF guarantees payment in case of default. MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles said he would emphasize the mutual advantages of locating a new $348 million nuclear accelerator in the Midwest in talks with Washington officials today.

Knowles planned to go to Washington to bolster Midwest governors' bid for the project. Wisconsin is among 16 states competing for the rich research facility.

The governor said the installation would be a "tremendous" asset to the Midwest. He said he also would stress that the Midwest had ample natural and human resources for the project before delivering the appeal to the Atomic Energy Commission.

The committee includes two other governors, two senators, Midwest Resources Association and two representatives.

Your personal savings, contributions of your parents, scholarship grants, income from part time work and college loans all come in for consideration.

The amount you can earn through part time work while you are at college is difficult to predict in advance. Carrying the normal load of college subjects is a full time job that takes up a student's days and much of his evenings as well.

Until you have demonstrated that you can carry a college load with time left over for work, you had better concentrate on studying. The few dollars you might earn in the first weeks of college could not possibly justify risking failure.

Once you know that you can safely spend time in doing part time work you should still limit yourself carefully.

The Federal Government in its subsidized Student Work Program sets a top limit of 15 hours a week. This program is making an increased number of jobs available to students in financial need. The government contributes $9 to each $1 contributed by the college. The college makes every effort to provide jobs in line with the student's major studies.

Pace Yourself

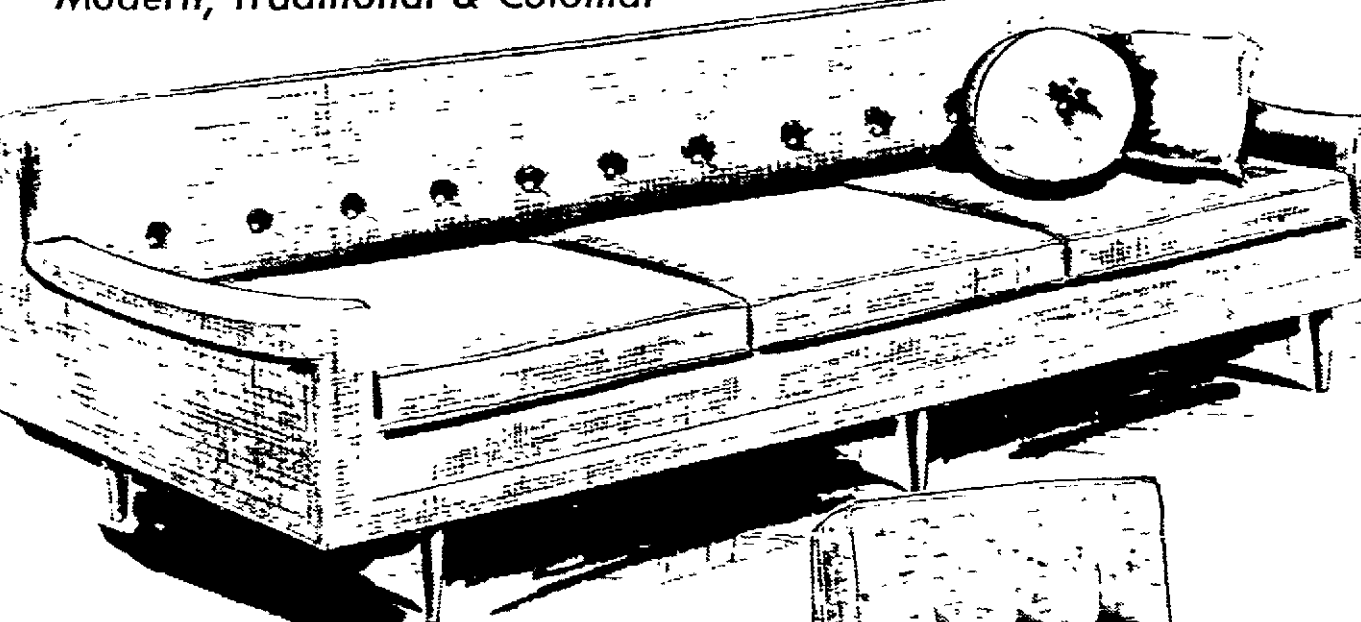

Be realistic. If work is to take up any considerable portion of your time, adjust your college load accordingly. Don't try to carry two full time jobs. The important factors are that you maintain high grades and good health.

More and more students are financing a portion of their college costs through loans. Almost all colleges make loans either from their own funds or from federal funds under the National Defense Student Loans program.

Some colleges offer loans only to upperclassmen. But an increasing number offer them to freshmen as well. In this case an overall plan for financing usually is worked out so that family contributions can be supplemented by college loans.

Apples... Ripe, Crisp and Tempting

Cheesy Apple Pinwheels

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Apples crisp and tempting have been important in men's lives ever since Eve persuaded Adam to take that first tasty bite. Everyone from babes to four-scorers like apples. With the abundant crop coming to Fox Valley markets now, the time has come to enjoy the tart, juicy Jonathans... the crunchy Red and Golden Delicious varieties... the rosy and round Rome Beauties so good for baking... the deep-red Winesaps known as excellent "keepers." Here are some apple recipes to really treasure... they fit the season and also suit the time budget of busy homemakers. Actually, these particular recipes were chosen as show-offs for the harvest apple... to prove that this healthful fruit is one of the mankind's most versatile foods.

There are pinwheels that combine those familiar go-togethers... apples and cheese... there is a surprising casserole that's delicious and topped with cheese and crumbs. Another is a novel sweet to delight the young fry... these are called Frosted Apple Circles... the fruit circles being topped with penuche fudge and chopped nuts. Then there's a recipe for apple dumplings... a perfect hearty dessert for cold, crisp days. Each dumpling is stuffed deliciously with raisins and candied fruits, plus a good measure of California walnuts for crunchy good texture and walnut-sweet flavor.

The last recipe is a soufflé-type dessert using apples... one guaranteed not to "fall," even if it comes to the table a bit late.

Dance Programs Scheduled by Recreation Dept.

Registration for children's dance classes, sponsored by the Appleton Recreation Dept. will close at 5 p.m. Friday. Lessons, to begin Nov. 1 at Columbus School, will include tap, ballet and acrobatics. A Dance revue will be held in the spring. Mrs. Marie Mortell has charge of the program.

Square dancing for beginners will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Thursday at Huntley School.

The Recreation Dept. Junior High Dances are held the first and third Fridays of the month at Edison School, from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

FROSTED APPLE CIRCLES
Prepare penuche quick-fudge mix as directed on package. Let cool in refrigerator five minutes, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile core the apples; do not peel. Slice crosswise about half-inch thick. Fill centers with penuche, then spread entire surface. Top with finely chopped nutmeats. Recipe makes about two dozen circles.

OPENFACE APPLE DUMPLINGS
1 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup water
1 cup granulated sugar
Few grains salt
2 tablespoons butter
6 medium-size cooking apples
Sweetmeat Filling
Walnut-Cheese Dumpling Shells
Walnut halves
Whipped cream or other topping

Measure orange and lemon juices, water, sugar, salt and butter into a medium-size skillet; stir to blend. Bring to a boil and simmer five minutes. Meanwhile, core apples not quite through, leaving just enough apple at bottom to hold in filling. Peel, then stuff each apple with Sweetmeat Filling. Place apples in hot syrup. Cover and simmer, basting frequently, just until tender about 15 to 20 minutes; be careful not to overcook. Turn apples carefully, upside-down using wide spatula the last five minutes to completely cook top if necessary.

Lift apples from syrup, drain a minute then set upright in baked dumpling shells. Boil syrup remaining in pan rapidly a few minutes longer to thicken slightly. Spoon syrup over apples in shells or, cool and serve separately as a sauce. Top each apple with a walnut half.

Serve warm or cold, plain or topped with whipped cream, softened cream cheese or vanilla ice cream. Recipe makes six servings.

Sweetmeat Filling
Mix together 1/4 cup each finely chopped walnuts and chopped raisins, two tablespoons chopped candied fruit and 1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind

WALNUT CHEESE DUMPLING SHELLS
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup grated cheddar cheese
1/4 cup finely chopped walnuts
3 tablespoons cold milk or water

Measure flour and salt into a bowl, cut in shortening. Add cheese and walnuts. Add milk or water mixing until dough holds together. Round up into a ball.

turn out on floured board; divide into six equal-size pieces. Roll each piece to a five-inch circle. Fit over backs of very lightly greased muffin pans. Pick surface of dough. Bake at 450 degrees, 10 to 12 minutes or until crisp and lightly browned. Remove to wire racks to cool.

CORN APPLE SKILLET BREAD WITH CREAMED EGGS

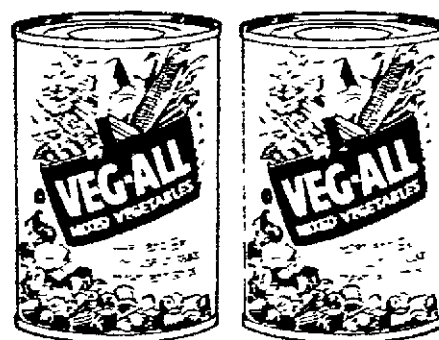

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 medium onion, chopped
1 small green pepper, seeded and chopped
1 package (1 pound, 2 ounces) corn muffin mix
2 eggs, well-beaten
2 cups canned applesauce
1 teaspoon crumbled poultry seasoning
2 cans cream of celery soup
1/2 cup dairy sour cream

1/4 cup chopped drained pimiento
8 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Salt
Hot Pepper Sauce

VFW Juniors Meet for Fall Conference

Mrs. William Frank, Manitoque, Department President of the VFW Auxiliary, and Mrs. William Campbell, Neenah, past national auxiliary president, were welcomed to the Junior Unit state fall conference Saturday at the VFW clubhouse. Miss Hoffmann is Junior Unit president.

New Members Join Sorority Of Teachers

New members were initiated into Omicron Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma in a 5:30 p.m. ceremony Monday evening at the Conway Hotel. Mrs. Helen Depp and Miss Phyllis Lien, both of Appleton, presided over the organization.

The group has adopted "Creative Individuals: Their Value to a Society" as its program theme for the year.

Miss Carol Walker, Menasha, was honored for her 25 years of membership in Delta Kappa Gamma.

Hostesses were Miss Jane Becher, Miss Olga Heller and Miss Fern Taylor.

am Campbell, Neenah, past national auxiliary president, participated in the fall conference. She presented a paper on "The Role of the Teacher" and was elected to the position of vice president.

Mrs. Campbell noted that their efforts are rewarded by increased knowledge and lasting friendships. She spoke after the noon luncheon.

The girls began registering for the meeting at the VFW Clubhouse at 9 a.m. During the morning each state unit reported on the work carried out by its organization. Mrs. Ava F. LaCrosse, Dept. Junior Unit Chairman, and Mrs. Richard Hendricks, Appleton eighth district chairman, told of plans for future projects and the organization of a new unit at West Bend.

Crowned Princess

Mayor Clarence Mitchell, who welcomed the young women to Appleton, crowned the new VFW Poppy Princess at Appleton, Miss Peggy Lyle. He awarded a poppy pin to Betty Steens and presented a gift from the Harvey Porter Auxiliary to Gail Scherke.

Luncheon speaker was Roland Nock, principal of Morgan School, who expressed gratitude for the walker presented to the school by the Appleton Junior Girls unit. Also a highlight of the luncheon program was the presentation of a "charm" and diploma to the Appleton unit members who completed the six-week charm course sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. Paul Volpe.

It was announced at the afternoon session that the VFW Dept. of Wisconsin will name a state Junior Unit princess to be selected from girls nominated by their local dual units. The winner will be named at the annual state convention.

Cancer Program

The special project for the year will be the VFW cancer program, with fund raising activities during the year slated to benefit the program. The first donation was presented to Mrs. William Frank, Manitowoc, department president, who stated that the Ladies Auxiliary is also concentrating on the Cancer program this year.

Dept. Americanism chairman, Mrs. Donald Manier, Appleton, explained how to display and honor the flag and suggested the girls strive to place a flag in every school, office at the conference were home and meeting room.

Area girls appointed to of Terry Hoffman, Appleton, Jr. Unit president; Nona Volpe, Appleton, chaplain; Linda Kies, Appleton, treasurer, and Peggy Lyon, Monica Christen, Cindy Stross and Judy Kies, all of Appleton, color bearers.

Council advisors were Mrs. Ara Fish, LaCrosse, and Mrs. Paul Volpe and Mrs. Richard Hendricks, Appleton. Mrs. Volpe was conference chairman.

November Rite Planned by Engaged Pair

NORTHPORT—The engagement of Miss Betty Jean Krueger to James Romberg has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Krueger. Manawa. Mr. Romberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kimble Romberg, Northport.

Mr. Romberg is engaged in farming. The couple plans a November wedding.

Mrs. William Frank, Manitoque, Department President of the VFW Auxiliary, and Mrs. William Campbell, Neenah, past national auxiliary president, were welcomed to the Junior Unit state fall conference Saturday at the VFW clubhouse. Miss Hoffmann is Junior Unit president.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES
 Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:
 First—a powerful enema carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
 Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Tablets. They're small, easy-to-swallow tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Fox Valley Squares Plan 'Fall Fling'
 The Fox Valley Squares will have a Fall Fling dance from 9 to 11 p.m. Friday at Sabre Lanes, Menasha. A sandwich potluck lunch will be served after the dance.
 Brand Landry will call.
 The committee is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kersten and Mr. and Mrs. C.F. Merbs.
Arrange Bouquets
 In arranging flowers, it is easier to start with the tallest flowers in height or width and then fill in with the other flowers.

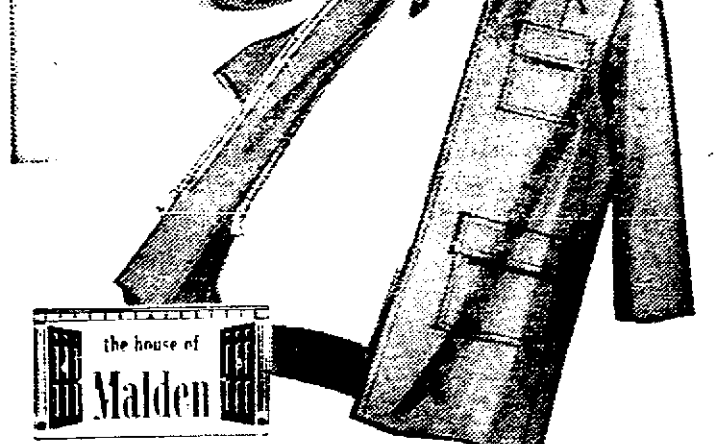

Sheinwold
Let Partner Speak Up in Tough Spot
BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
 According to the classic definition, a bore is a person who talks about himself when you want to talk about yourself. In many situations this is also the definition of a bid bidder.
 East took the ace of spades and continued with the queen South ruffed with the ten and had a moment's hope when West discarded a club.
 South then led out his top three spades his pass would be trumps and found he would have to lose a trump after all. He led another trump to the jack and won the diamond return with spade length, he would bid four the king. South continued with hearts. With his actual hand, the ace and the low diamond, North would double for penalty putting West in with the jack. ties. East would lose a trump.
 Now West had to lead clubs, and two tricks in each of the and South got his finesse. This side suits.
 limited the loss to one trick in each suit. Down one.
 "We made a profit," South announced joyfully. "I had honors, hold: S K H J 7 6 5, D J 9 5 4, so we get 50 points net."
 Not Satisfied
 North was not satisfied. "We'd only 5 points in high cards and have scored 500 points if you could only keep quiet at the right time," he complained.
 There was no need for South to bid four hearts. You would raise if partner opened with one heart, but should pass when his bid is one spade.

a bowl. Cut shortening into flour with pastry blender or fork until mixture is the consistency of cornmeal. Make a hole in the center of the mixture. Add milk and stir until lightly browned.

While bread is baking mix celery soup, sour cream and pimento in a large saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until well heated and hot. Gently stir in eggs and salt and hot pepper sauce to taste. Pour into squares and seven creamed eggs over square.

CHEESY APPLE PINWHEELS

1 pound, 4 ounce can sliced apples
 1/2 cup water
 1 cup sugar
 2 teaspoons cinnamon
 2 cups sifted flour
 5 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 to 1 cup milk
 2 cups shredded cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Chop apples and set aside. Measure juice from apples. Add enough vinegar to make three fourths cup of liquid. Place in saucepan. Stir in water, sugar and cinnamon. Cook over medium heat for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, sift together flour, baking powder, and salt into with pastry blender or fork until mixture is the consistency of cornmeal. Make a hole in the center of the mixture. Add milk and stir until lightly browned.

Turn onto lightly floured board and knead six times. Roll into a rectangle 15 by 12 inches. Sprinkle one side with cinnamon. Spread sliced apples on the other side. Starting with a long edge, roll up the dough into a log. Cut into 12 equal slices. Place slices on a 15 by 9 by 2 inch baking sheet. Pour syrup over top. Bake in a 375-degree oven for 35 minutes. Serve warm with whipping cream or ice cream.

APPLE TUNA CASSEROLE

2 cans (6 1/2 or 7-oz each) tuna
 1 cup chopped onion
 1 cup sliced celery
 1 can condensed cream of celery soup
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 teaspoon marjoram
 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
 1 can (1 lb) apple slices
 1 cup grated American cheese

1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs
 Drain oil from tuna into a two-quart heat-proof casserole. Add onion and celery. Cook until tender but not brown. Remove from heat. Stir in soup, milk, marjoram, tuna, Tabasco and drained apple slices. Top with cheese. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake at 425 degrees for about 25 minutes. Recipe makes four to six servings. If desired, reserve enough apple slices to circle edge of casserole.

APPLE PUDDING SOUFFLE

2 cups bread cubes
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 1/2 cups milk, scalded
 1/2 cup finely chopped candied orange peel
 1/2 cup blanched slivered almonds
 1/2 cup package diced dates
 1/2 cup sugar
 Grated peel 1 lemon
 1 can (1-lb) apple slices
 3 eggs, separated
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 Nutmeg

Sauté bread cubes in butter or margarine until golden brown. Add milk. Combine orange peel, almonds, dates, sugar and lemon peel. Chop apples add, mix well. Beat egg yolks slightly, add with milk and bread cubes and vanilla. Beat egg whites stiff, fold in. Spoon into baking dish. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Set in shallow pan of water. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

Here's a soup recipe that will bring only price. Apple Pudding Souffle can make "luncheon" or dinner a success, mainly because it simply won't "fall" like ordinary soups. It also goes beautifully with soups and salads for a full course "luncheon" or stands alone with just a beverage for a simple dessert party.

Paul Fluhr Fiance of Miss Keuler

CHILTON—Mr. and Mrs. John J. Keuler, 612 Park St. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Paul Fluhr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fluhr, route 1, New Holstein.

Miss Keuler is employed at Loree M. Lady Beauty Salon, Neenah. Her fiance is with Larson Engine Division of Tecumseh Products Co., New Holstein.

Newlyweds To Reside In Racine

WISDOM RIDGE—Frederick H. Larson claimed Miss Joan Smader as his bride at noon Oct. 2 in the chapel of Christ Methodist Church, Racine.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smader. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Larson, route 1, Weyauwega.

Honor attendants for the couple were Mrs. Oliver W. Houghton, Mount Joy, Pa., sister of the bride, and LeRoy Seno, Beloit, brother-in-law of the bride.

A wedding dinner was served at the Clayton House, Golden Lanes Supper Club.

Mrs. Larson is a teacher in the Racine Public School system. Mr. Larson is Commissioner of Public Works in Racine. The couple honeymooned in northern Wisconsin and live in Racine.

Promises Exchanged

Miss Susan M. Reich, 317 N. Morrison St., and Daniel E. Collar exchanged wedding promises at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Joseph Catholic Church. The Rev. Kurt Gessner, O.F.M., Cap., officiated at the double ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Reich, Manitowish, are the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Collar, 937 E. Franklin St., are the parents of the bridegroom. Mrs. M. J. Schaefer, Milwaukee, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bride-maid was Miss Dorothy Schaefer. Acting as best man was Richard Revenchuk, Thomas Kottke was groomsmen. Ushering duties were shared by Robert Collar and Alan Reich. A reception took place at the 41 Bowl.

The couple is honeymooning in Canada and New York and will live at 1897 1/2 E. Newberry St.

Mrs. Collar attended Wisconsin State University-LaCrosse and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. She is a member of Delta Zeta sorority and is employed as a dental assistant. Her husband is employed at Treasure Island.

Questions, Answers

SEAMS TO ME
By Patricia Scott

BY PATRICIA SCOTT
Using water on a garment to fabric is wool, cotton or a press it can be rather harmful, synthetic.
few fabrics will come out unmarred. If you are changing the dress dry cleaned unless the fabric is wool, cotton or a press it can be rather harmful, synthetic.

Q While pressing a black crepe dress where I had changed the hemline, I dampened the hem making it quite wet in places, and placed a plush-like pressing cloth over it. I used a medium warm iron over the cloth on the right side. I now have several places where the material is shiny. Is there any way they can be removed?
— Mrs. A.B.K.

A I doubt it. Crepe is a tricky fabric and may shine when pressed — even without water. I suggest that you have the dress exactly on the proper grain dry cleaned. This may eliminate the shine.

Q I would appreciate knowing if the Petite and Jr. Petite sizes are short-waisted or if they have a regular waist? I haven't seen any waist lengths for Petite sizes like the half sizes for short women. — Mrs. M.J.

A Petite sizes are made with regular misses waist lengths, but with shorter skirts for short women. Jr. Petite is short-waisted as in Jr. sizes but is also shorter in the skirt for the very short woman. Half sizes are shorter in the waist, but are generally larger in all other measurements.

Q I'm still confused about markings on patterns. What does the long arrow in the center of each piece mean? — Mrs. P.W.

A This indicates the straight other piece of fabric. Patricia Scott has prepared a booklet, How to Alter Your Dress Patterns, which gives complete instructions for altering so that finished garments will fit perfectly. For a copy of this guide to correct fitting, write to Patricia Scott in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover costs of printing and handling.

Excessive Weeping May be Due to Medical Problem

BY DR. EVE JONES
Dear Dr. Jones: Is it normal for a teenager to begin to cry for no reason at all when with friends or herself or even when she wakes up at night? My daughter is 15 and this is how she has been behaving for months. I worry as and as much as I can help her, but we have no money to afford to take her to a psychiatrist. She says there's nothing wrong and that she'll grow out of it.

Mrs. M. E.
Dear Mrs. M.E.: Many girls and women, too, are prone to weeping fits and get moody because of hormone irregularities that are relatively easily straightened out by appropriate medical care. So have her general physical condition checked thoroughly, with special attention to her menstrual cycle.

If the examination reveals no medical problems, her weeping is likely to be being caused by conflicts so complicated that it wouldn't be effective to try to deal with them through this column.

Take her to the mental health service near your own home. Their fee is adjusted to suit a family's income, so you don't need to worry about being able to afford the care your daughter may need.

Dear Dr. Jones: I have four children and I don't want them to grow up timid and afraid like me. My oldest is 5 and I have noticed that she lets her friends come to play and she doesn't say a word or ever fight back when they hit her and start to tell her they have prettier things than she has.

I have told her to fight back and not to let them push her around, and I have lost my temper with her several times because she doesn't do as I say. I'm afraid I'm not getting anywhere.

Mrs. G. A.
Dear Mrs. G. A.: If you're afraid to stand up for yourself, you probably overestimate the value of being able to fight. But it really isn't the great thing you seem to think it is. It's more important for people to know how to relax, confident that no one will hurt them and that they don't need to hurt anyone. Stop all the children from fighting and teasing—just stop them. don't scold or punish. Teaching them to respect each other's feelings and rights is much harder to do than frightening them into fighting even-ly. But in the long run, your children will be better off knowing they can rely on you to show them how civilized, grown-up people behave, than by continuing to be childish fighters.

Catholic Nurses To Convene in New London

NEW LONDON—Robert Berg, director of a sheltered workshop for the physically and mentally handicapped in Waukesha, will speak at 3 p.m. Sunday at Most Precious Blood Catholic Church. His talk is open to the public.

Mr. Berg will talk at the Diocesan Council of Catholic Nurses' bi-annual convention. Registration will begin at 1:30 p.m. A business meeting will be held after the 2 p.m. benediction. Mrs. Stephen Hirschboeck will accept reservations for the 5 p.m. dinner until Wednesday. Mrs. John Kraske is serving as chairman of the convention. Catholic nurses from Antigo, Appleton, Green Bay and New London are members of the council.

The Ailing House Coffee Cup Stains Go With Clorox

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
I suggest that the reader with the stained plastic tableware try this: Fill the coffee cups with warm water and a tablespoon of Clorox. I've found this takes out coffee and other stains from plastic right away. Only leave the solution two or three minutes; otherwise the bleach odor might remain in the cups. I have even used this on other stained cups — not just plastic.

Thanks, Mrs. H. E. Boylston, Mass., for your thoughtful and welcome letter!

I'd like to add that coffee stain removing preparations are stocked by many supermarkets.

Q: Is there a liquid one may coat on glass so one may see out, but nobody can see in from the outside?

A: Yes, but it requires professional equipment and know-how: not a do-it-yourself job at all. Ask a professional glass repair man for an estimate. It's not cheap.

Q: We purchased a second hand bathroom sink. It's in good condition except for a darkened area around the drain, apparently caused by wear. Should the entire sink be sprayed with an epoxy or is there anything else to remove the stain?

A: First, there's no point in spraying any part of the sink which doesn't need it. Second, epoxy, if you can get a shade exactly matching the original porcelain finish, cannot be expected to give permanent results (although it's certainly remarkable in its durability). However, try a strong bleach before anything else; it may be all that's needed.

How can I clean off color crayon which was liberally scribbled on lannon stone, now in part of our family room? Unfortunately, it's not the washable type of crayon.

A: As with brick, concrete, flagstone or succo, this kind of a stain is tough to remove completely, owing to the porous surface. Mix a stiff paste of powdered chalk or fuller's earth and cleaning fluid, and cover the stain quite thickly. When the paste dries, brush off and replace with more. Repeat as needed. The cleaning fluid loosens the embedded greasy crayon, and the powdered chalk blots it up. You're right, next time equip the youthful artists with the washable crayon — and suggest a medium other than lannon stone or wallpaper, how you do the suggesting I leave up to you.

Funds Allotted For Purchase of Land at WSU-O

Approve $114,845 For 2 Parcels to be Used as Athletic Field

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The State Building Commission Tuesday approved $114,845 for the purchase of two parcels of land on the campus of the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point for use as an athletic field.

The parcels are about 100 feet wide and 450 to 500 feet long, and adjoin the Fox River front. The owner of the marina, which will be used by the university for vehicle storage, is offering a larger facility on the opposite shore of the river.

Expansion Site
The land is located in what previously had been designated as the immediate future expansion area of the university. A purchase price for the land of $114,845 was agreed upon by the university and the state.

The parcels are located on the campus of the university. The parcels are located on the campus of the university.

Chinese Cook Wins Award for Italian Americans

BOSTON (AP) — Jeno F. Paulucci, 47, who added an Italian flair to chow mein and became one of the nation's biggest Chinese cooks, has won the Gold Medal Award of the Italian-American Society of Boston.

Paulucci, president of a Duluth, Minn. food packaging firm — Chun King Corp. — received the award Monday night at a Columbus Day dinner.

He sees nothing unusual about an American of Italian descent making a career out of preparing Oriental food with a dash of garlic in Duluth — a land of Swedes and Norwegians. It's a typical American situation," said Paulucci.

Public Executives Inferior Citizens, Convention Told

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The public executive has been made a second class citizen government, personnel directors and civil service commissioners from 17 nations were told Monday.

Leon J. Krueger of San Francisco, Calif., said public executives are "deprived of most political freedoms, restricted in their ability to engage in other economic endeavor for fear of the ugly charge of conflict of interests, reviled when he is wrong, seldom appreciated when he is right, and neglected when salaries are set."

The executive vice president of Griffenbagen Krueger, Inc., led a personnel administration conference sponsored by the Wisconsin Personnel Association, a division of the state Department of Public Welfare at 783 S. Main St. Monday.

Capener will supervise eight probation and parole agents located at Oshkosh, Appleton, and Manitowish. The creation of the new district is a result of increased work loads.

Capener received his Master's Degree in Social Work in 1953 from the University of Wisconsin and began his career as a social worker at the Wisconsin State Reformatory, Green Bay, in 1957. He was promoted to supervisor of the student training program in the Milwaukee Kettle Moraine Boys School in 1961. Capener is married and has three children.

Child Character Development Is Topic of Panel

A panel discussion entitled "The Character Development of Today's Children" sponsored by the parent educator division of the Confaternity of Christian Doctrine is set for 8 p.m. Sunday at St. Pius X Church.

Panel members include Mrs. Frank Cornelia Kindergarten teacher, Kenneth E. Navine, social case worker, Dr. Lloyd P. Williams, pediatrician, and Dr. Joseph B. Weissler, psychiatrist.

The principal part of the program will be devoted to questions from the audience concerning today's children and associated problems.

Mortgage Lender Interest Might Increase

Rising Rates Could Mean Bigger Price For House Buyers

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Home mortgage lenders may have to pay more if they borrow money to finance their customers' home purchases. Some business men are reported shopping around after being told their bank would raise interest rates on future loans to them. Other companies, facing rising payroll costs, are seeking the least expensive way to finance this chore.

These are some of the problems of borrowers as the move to raise interest rates on a selective basis continues to spread slowly through the banking community in many parts of the nation.

The selective basis is being used, at least in part, because the Johnson administration has urged that the prime rate be left untouched at 4 1/2 per cent. This is the rate banks charge their biggest and most creditworthy customers.

Change Classification

The trouble today, for many corporations, is that banks are moving them out of this prime classification and into the higher rate categories applied to most business loans — or the banks are moving them up, say, from 4 1/2 per cent to 5 per cent.

In the home building field the warning of possible higher rates comes from John DeLaitre, member of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. He says it's costing these central home loan banks more to borrow, and they may have to charge savings and loan associations more when they tap the central banks' tills. Conceivably, this could spread to higher costs for buying a home.

"Recently market interest rates, which had been relatively stable, have again increased considerably," he tells the annual convention of the Ohio Savings and Loan League in Cleveland this week. "Yields on Treasury bills are up rather sharply in recent weeks."

Seem Inevitable

"Unless there is a decline in market interest rates, increases in advance rates by home loan banks would appear to be inevitable in the months ahead."

In the field of loans to business to finance inventory carrying, payrolls, purchases of materials, or expansion plans, charges have risen on a selective basis over a period of several weeks. This became public only recently and brought a quick plea from Washington to hold the basic interest rates.

The administration insists that any general increase in interest rates isn't justified now. Also it fears that such a rise might stifle further economic expansion just when it's most anxious to keep this going.

Bankers point to a sharp rise this summer and autumn in the demand for business loans, and to the prospect that the U.S. Treasury will seek to borrow more funds to finance the government's growing military and civilian programs. Bankers say the big demand naturally brings higher rates in its trail.

Selective Increases

At the moment, a number of large banks from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts and in between have announced selective increases, without tampering with the prime rate. Other banks are reported by their customers to have done the same thing without announcing it — and some of the customers don't like it.

Some are exploring other ways of raising money — issuing more stock or bonds, offering their own 10 1/2's, retaining more of their earnings and paying out less in dividends, reducing their depreciation and tax charges.

There's no contradiction yet between banks and government — but there's a lot of waiting and expiring.

Oshkosh Firm Submits Low Bid for Razing House at Runway Site

OSHKOSH — Three bids for razing a house at the corner of U.S. 41 and State 44 to wind up the east-west runway extension project, undertaken two years ago, were received Monday.

Lowest bid was for $24,000 by the county, submitted by Madison Moving and Wrecking Co., Oshkosh. The other bids were $395, Rodzinski Brothers, route 2, Oshkosh; and $450, Berg and Henn Movers, Inc., Appleton.

Aviation committee members along with W. C. Paul of the State Aeronautics Commission staff opened bids today. Committee members hoped someone would offer to buy the house from the county and move it from the scene instead of the county having to pay out for razing of the house.

The cost is charged against the runway project.

House Okays Aid Bill for Med Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional action has been completed on a $787.5-million medical school program.

A variety of scholarships, grants and construction funds will be provided with the aim of producing more doctors, dentists, nurses and other medical personnel.

The House accepted Senate amendments Monday to the bill the House had passed Sept. 1.

The measure calls for: — A four-year program of grants that would enable needy students to receive 52 cents out of each $1 scholarship of up to $2,500 a year.

— A four-year, $200-million program of improvement grants to help schools step up the quality and scope of teaching programs.

The three-year extension at $150 million yearly of a program of matching grants for construction and replacement of teaching facilities.

— A three-year extension of a $25-million annual program to make money available for the operation of student loan funds.

Your Money's Worth

U.S. Changing Concept Of Luxury, Necessity

BY SYLVIA PORTER

For the first time in world history, a nation has emerged in which families on average, soon will be spending more than 50 cents of each after-tax $1 on luxuries — rather than on the traditional basic necessities of food, shelter, clothing and fuel. This nation is our United States.

Our spending for the basic necessities of life reached an all-time record of $208.4 billion in 1964, but this is not the significant news. The big news is that necessities breaks down to only 44 cents of each dollar, and the percentage has been shrinking by the month. In some cities more than half of each dollar already is going for luxuries.

In 1875 an overwhelming 94 cents of each family's spending went for food, clothing, shelter. "Shelter" isn't just protection, electric toasters, mixers and coffee makers, a majority of us have these items in our homes.

Proportion Dropping By 1929 the share going to basic necessities had fallen to 59 cents and 41 cents was left for non-essentials.

By 1954 the proportion for necessities had dropped to 36 cents.

essities had dropped to 36 cents with 44 cents left over. In 1964 the proportion was 52 in convenience, year-round availability.

What is Necessity? In fact, one major question raised by our shattering of the traditional spending patterns is: "What is a necessity in the U. S. today?"

To most Americans — particularly in the suburbs — an automobile would now be among the minimum necessities, for a full 78 per cent of all families today own at least one car.

Also among the minimum necessities would be a gas or electric stove, an electric refrigerator and a TV set more than nine of every 10 Americans own — but again, these luxuries these included too would be an automatic clothes washing machine and a vacuum cleaner.

From this first major question, brand's description of us in 1958 the things that seem to be becoming a vast majority of U. S. families isn't just sustenance. Never before has our food had today's high quality, wide variety, built-in convenience, year-round availability.

luxuries tomorrow? From a study of today's buying trends, I submit that the following products will be graduating from the luxury to the necessity class in the years ahead.

Change in Status — The automatic clothes dryer or washer-dryer combination. Fewer than one in four families own this equipment today, but these items were virtually unknown as recently as 1950.

The automatic dishwasher, home freezer, garbage disposal and air conditioner. Only one in 10 families today has an electric dishwasher or garbage disposal, and only one in five has an air conditioner or home freezer.

Car air conditioners, color TV, central home air conditioning, power lawn mowers, a range of musical instruments.

Among many middle-income families I know, these already are "necessities."

Even Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith's description of us in 1958 the things that seem to be becoming a vast majority of U. S. families isn't just sustenance. Never before has our food had today's high quality, wide variety, built-in convenience, year-round availability.

R. W. Mahony Renamed to AVS Board

Richard W. Mahony, chairman of the board of directors at Appleton Coated Paper Co., was reappointed to the Appleton Vocational School Board by the board of education.

This will be his 28th year on the board. He has served twice as president of the board.

Two additional members will need to be appointed to the board beginning January 1966. At that time the AVS board must appoint an employee from the employer and an employee from the public school districts to the board.

William Spears, superintendent of schools, has asked that interested persons should notify the board.

Harrington Quits Club Apparently Because of Bias

MADISON (AP) — University of Wisconsin President Fred Harvey Harrington has resigned from the exclusive Madison Club after membership was denied to two prominent Jews, one a member of the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

Madison's board threatened revocation of the club's liquor license Tuesday night after Supreme Court Justice Myron L. Gordon confirmed his application had been rejected.

Alderman Robert Reynolds Jr. called Gordon and the other rejected applicant, attorney Gordon Smykin, a law partner of the late former Gov. Philip F. La Follette, men of "unimpeachable and impeccable character and reputation."

Reynolds said the license of the club should be lifted because of the apparent discrimination.

At that time the AVS board must appoint an employee from the employer and an employee from the public school districts to the board.

William Spears, superintendent of schools, has asked that interested persons should notify the board.

Packers Eighth Offensively And Defensively in NFL

Chandler Third In Individual Scoring Chase

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, only unbeaten club in the National Football League, are just another mediocre team, if faith is to be placed in figures.

The latest NFL statistics list the Packers eighth in team offense out of 14 clubs. They are also eighth in defense.

In fact, the Packers' defense has yielded more yards—1,194—than the offense has gained—1,176—in Green Bay's four victories.

The secret of their success, then?

It may be a staunch stand when the defense gets its back to the wall. Other than the standings, Green Bay leads in the statistics in only one category — fewer points surrendered. The Packers have given up 50 points and scored 111 in their four outings.

St. Louis, tied for the Eastern Division lead, tops the offense with 1,692 yards and San Francisco, a step behind Green Bay in the Western Division after bowing to the Packers and Baltimore, leads the defense with only 954 yards allowed. Next at 984 yards is Detroit, the Packers' next foe Sunday.

Chandler Third
Don Chandler, Green Bay's kicking artist, is third in the individual scoring race behind two other booters, St. Louis' Jim Bakken, a University of Wisconsin product, leads with 37 points to 35 for Fred Cox of Minnesota and 33 for Chandler.

The Packers' quarterback Bart Starr is second over-all in passing under a complicated formula, trailing Rudy Bukich of Chicago. Starr leads in completions at 64.6 per cent and only one interception, while St. Louis' Charlie Johnson is tops in yardage at 1,063.

Herb Adderley is tied with three others for the most pass interceptions—four. But none of the Packers appeared in the top 10 in either pass catching or rushing.

Brown in Runaway
Jim Brown of Cleveland continues to make the rushing race a runaway with 476 yards in four games, while Tom Brown of Philadelphia leads in pass receptions with 23 for 399 yards.

NEW YORK (AP) — It took two men to fill the vacancies left when Yale Lary returned from the Detroit Lions after last season.

But one of them is a versatile performer in his own right, Pat Studstill, and the other is a fine young player, Wayne Rasmussen. Studstill, the Lions' all-around fullback, succeeded Lary as the team's punter and leads the National Football League with a 46-yard average. Rasmussen took Lary's place in the defensive backfield and is tied for the league lead in pass interceptions with four in four games.

Rookie in 1961

As a rookie in 1961, Studstill took his first kickoff return for 100 yards and a touchdown. The next year he led the NFL in punt returns and also joined as a receiver for the injured Terry Barr. He sat out 1963 with a knee injury, but returned last year and was the Lions' top kickoff return man.

Northwesterns' Agase Holds High Respect for Badgers Despite Record

Bruhn Revamps Lineup, Changes 7 of 22 Starters

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin, a team with only a passing attack going for it, moves to Evanston, Ill., Saturday for a Big Ten conference football game with Northwestern, a team that looks best on the run.

"Our passing has not been effective or impressive, so we've emphasized running," said Northwestern Coach Alex

Agase, "but we know we need passing to complement it."

Agase spoke Tuesday by long distance telephone to members of a Madison sportswriters and sportscasters club. He was respectful of his foe.

"From the films I see and the scout reports I got, Wisconsin is a good football team," Agase said. "They do a lot of things I'm impressed with."

Nothing Impressive

Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn, on the other hand, didn't see anything impressive in his club during last week's 37-0 thumping at Nebraska.

Bruhn skipped his weekly Savage Award for defensive play. "We didn't have a savage last weekend," he said.

Injuries remained a problem for the Badgers with defensive tackle Nate Jenkins and wingback Gary Bander nursing injured ankles. Both are expected to play Saturday, however.

Scheduled to return to the lineup is defensive end Warren Dyer who didn't make the Nebraska trip because of a bad ankle. The status of end John Tietz was uncertain because of a broken bone in his hand.

The Badgers and the Wildcats hold shares in a five-way tie for second place in the Big Ten conference with single victories each. Michigan State leads with a 2-0 record.

Northwestern goes into the contest Saturday with a shade better season mark than that compiled by Wisconsin. The Wildcats are 2-2. The Badgers have beaten Iowa, lost to Southern California and Nebraska, and tied Colorado.

Bruhn's charges can draw some comfort from records which show Wisconsin has been more than a match for Northwestern over the years. Saturday's game will be the 53rd between the two teams, and the Badgers have won 31.

"The big thing," Bruhn said, "is we've got to forget about the Nebraska game and get the flanker who caught nine of his passes for 167 yards and two touchdowns."

"It was the hot quarterback Northwestern. If we do, things powered 49er rushers for zero yards in three cracks on the Bays' one yard line early in the second quarter before John Bronie just gave up on his ground game and flipped to Morrie Suckles for the TD in the fourth quarter the 49ers had the ball on the Packer 16 and lost it on downs. They needed a yard on the Packer 7 and the John David Crow and Gary Lewis were stopped cold on the Bays rushed for against the Cats 106 and Bears 78.

Asked about the Pack's rushing, Coach Vince Lombardi remarked today that "we didn't do anything different than we Bays' determination on offense, did in the other games. It just worked better, that's all."

Lombardi, looking at the game overall after viewing pictures Monday, said "we played banged right back for Chandler's 18-yard field goal and a fensively... and we had determination."

He pointed out that "the extent of our determination was shown in the goal line stands." The Packers held the high-

Grant Hurls, Despite Cold and Bad Knees

'Head Feels Like Balloon,' Says Minnesota Ace

BY JOE REICHLER
MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota Manager Sam Mele had more problems today than a box seat holder who finds that his ticket is a counterfeit and the boss is sitting in his seat.

His trailing Twins' hopes of extending the World Series into a seventh game with the Los Angeles Dodgers rested on home field psychology, an appeal to the players' pride and a tired pitcher with a headache, a nagging cold and protesting knees.

"My head feels like a balloon, my cold's no better and my knees are bothering me," said Jim Grant, Mele's desperation starter, who lasted five innings in a losing effort against the Dodgers just three days ago.

"Otherwise, I'm all right," added the strong-armed right-hander, set to make his third Series start in eight days today. He defeated the Dodgers 3-1 in the opener last Wednesday.

Claude Osteen, Grant's mound rival for the sixth game, hasn't pitched since Saturday when he shut out the Twins 5-0. That got the Dodgers off to a three-game sweep at Chavez Ravine which boosted the National League champions to a 3-2 edge in the Series.

Should the Twins bounce back and defeat their left-handed nemesis, southpaw Jim Kaat will pitch the seventh and final game for Minnesota Thursday. Dodger Manager Walter Alston probably will start Don Drysdale, his right-handed ace, who has split two series decisions with the Twins.

The 29-year-old native of Lancaster, Pa., has been bothered by a lingering cold but what worries him most are his knees which have been giving him some trouble for the last month.

"It's tendonitis," he said. "I intend to have a thorough examination of the knees once the series is over. It happens every year, late in the season. The knees get awfully tired. I usually get a rest when this happens but I couldn't afford one this year."

Truckers, Kimberly Will Battle Friday

Surprising Bulldogs Strive to Even M-E Record Against Two Rivers; Neenah Invades Shawano Field

MID-EASTERN CONFERENCE

Team	W	L	T
Clintonville	3	1	1
Neenah	3	1	1
Kimberly	3	1	1
Menasha	2	2	0

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Coach Larry Graves' New London High School football team, a most unusual, yet pleasant surprise of the 1965 Mid-Eastern Conference race, can square loop accounts for the season Friday night with a victory over invading Two Rivers.

The M-E co-leaders, Clintonville and Neenah, are billed for road games Friday with Kaukauna at Menasha the lone Saturday attraction. Neenah is not expected to encounter much difficulty at Shawano, but the Truckers may be severely tested by Kimberly's rugged defense.

The Bulldogs, though they're not necessarily in the title picture, logged one of the most amazing verdicts of the season at Neenah Saturday. Smarting from a 7-0 loss tendered by the Rockets of 1964, New London's determined and vengeful brigade led the powerful Neenah club, 13-0, before settling for a 13-13 stand-off.

Cloud Title Chase
To further cloud the title chase, Kaukauna left Clintonville Saturday with a 6-6 deadlock. The Truckers and Rockets entered these Saturday dates with 3-0 conference marks. Now, though slightly blemished, they share a half-game lead over Coach Jack Wippich's Papermakers, the surprise contender of '65.

Reviewing the Bulldogs' elevator-like campaign, a 20-0 non-loop loss to Marinette offered no indication of what was to come. An 16-14 loss to Clintonville followed, but the Bulldogs had a touchdown run nullified (76-yard kick-off return by Tom Brown) by a clipping penalty.

Sports add 1 M-E GRID 48 pt. The Bulldogs rose to the top San Francisco 49ers. The elevator quickly descended, however, as the New London York Giant Kicking specialist of eleven lost a 7-0 battle to Kimberly on the National Football League since Wilbur (Fats) Henry got off a 94-yarder for the old Cannon Bulldogs in 1923.

Unitas Named NFL's Offensive Player of Week

When John Unitas is hot there is not a better player in pro football. The Baltimore Colts' quarterback sizzled Sunday against the Detroit Lions.

Unitas became The Associated Press' offensive player of the week in the National Football League on the strength of a superb performance against the Lions.

Norm Joecks Blasts 287 in Major Loop

Norm Joecks notched 30 the 11th and 12th strikes in tonight's game and posted a 287 which has been the second 300 in the Major League since 1900. Joecks, of the Milwaukee Braves, blasted 10 home runs and 10 RBIs in the 11th and 12th innings. He also had a 287 in the 11th and 12th innings. He also had a 287 in the 11th and 12th innings.

Polar Bear '11' Next to Test Winneconne

Winneconne	5	0	0
Reedsville	4	1	0
Denmark	3	1	1
Freedom	3	1	1
Wrightstown	3	2	0
Omro	3	2	1
Brillion	2	2	1
Hortonville	1	4	0
Hilbert	0	5	0
Shotton	0	5	0

The unbeaten Winneconne Wolves have set their sights on Hortonville, hoping to make the Polar Bears their sixth straight victims in a Little Nine Conference game Saturday at Winneconne.

The league schedule for this week is spread out over three days. Action gets underway Thursday night when Brillion will be at Denmark.

Two games are on tap for Friday, with Freedom at Shotton and Hilbert at Omro. In addition to the Hortonville-Winneconne encounter, Reedsville will be at Wrightstown Saturday afternoon.

Winneconne's defense continues to play a stellar role in the march toward the conference title. The Wolves have been scored on only once in the five victories to date. Last weekend, Hilbert was stopped with a total of six yards in overall statistics. Hilbert had only two first downs and completed just two of 15 aerials.

In Hortonville, Winneconne will be meeting a team with a 1-4 record, but more potent than that record indicates. Last week, the Polar Bears faced Brillion in a rain-marred contest and came out on the short end of a 6-2 score.

Reedsville currently is in the runnerup spot in the conference with a 4-1 record and the Panthers cannot afford a letdown if they are to remain in title contention. Reedsville got by Omro, 7-0, last weekend with a third period touchdown in a hard-fought defensive battle. Wrightstown has a 3-2 record and lost a heartbreaking, 20-18 Press staffer for his fine effort decision to Freedom last week. The winning touchdown was scored with less than two minutes left in the game so the Tigers will be out to get back on the win track against the Panthers.

Hortonville Lists P-P-K Winners

HORTONVILLE — About 85 boys participated in the punt, pass and kick contest, locally sponsored by Bartlett Motors. Winners in the 8-year-old class were Tom Kreul, first; Paul Schwartz, second; Richard Learman, third. Randy Schwartz was the winner in the 9-year-old division with Dan Diestler, second and Dan Koeppl, third. First place in the 10-year-old class went to George Cliff, second place to Randy Panow and third to Robert Reader. John Kreul was awarded first in the 11-year-old division with Kevin Schulz, second and Scott Nelson, third. Jim Williams was first among the 12-year-olds, Pete Dominow, second and Daryl Collier, third. Allen Cousineau took first place honors in the 13-year-old Jim Brown continued to pour it out with Wenzel Wallenfing, on for the Browns with 168 yards on 29 carries on a wet field.

Two Quakenbush Quarter Horses Capture Awards

Two quarter horses owned by Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Quakenbush of the Triple Q Ranch, 1305 W. Oakcrest Dr., won trophies last week at the 1965 Cattle Congress Quarter Horse Show, at Waterloo, Iowa. Recognized were Van Go Q, a 1964 sorrel stallion, as reserve champion stallion, and Barbee Q, a 1963 bay mare, as grand champion mare. Sure of both is Kay's Roan, a 1958 roan stallion owned by Mr. and Mrs. Quakenbush. Quakenbush horses will receive a total of eight trophies when the Wisconsin Quarter Horse Association holds its annual year-end awards banquet Nov. 13 at the Chalet-on-the-lake, Mequon. Kay's Roan will be honored in the aged stallion class and the senior reigning class, as well as

Supervisors Avoid Action On Stadium Rental Package Name Spurrier As Collegiate Back of Week

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee County supervisors offer in time to take it to the County Executive. The county is pursuing an appeal, by County Executive John Doyle, that quick action to antitrust suit in federal courts adopt a rental proposal was to force the Braves to remain in Milwaukee or the National League to grant a replacement franchise. It is asking a restraining order to block the move. "What can you do for me?" Doyle asked the County Board's finance committee. "We can't get a restraining order. We can't get a restraining order. We can't get a restraining order." The committee, however, refused to adopt a $300,000 budget for stadium operations. The group included a $100,000 sports committee, said the group might meet on the proposal within the next few days.

informed of the award "I can't recall making a tackle all season," he said.

"I never quite figured out myself whether the punt was an offensive or a defensive weapon," Chandler added.

Chandler, a punter and running back in his early years in the league, recalled having a greater day booting the ball, but he couldn't pinpoint the year.

"I do know we (the Giants) were playing Cleveland and I punted 10 times and seven of them went out of bounds. I think I had a 54.6 average that day," Chandler said.

The Packers had more fun talking about Chandler's run than his punt. "Max McGee is a very witty person, as you may know," Chandler said. "He told me it was the only run in football history where television broke off for a minute commercial and came back for the finish of the play."

Coach's Injury Is Last Straw; Tilts Forfeited

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — The coach's injury may have been the last straw as Lansingburgh High School here decided to forfeit its three remaining football games.

Coach John Krochyna, who joined the squad's bulging disabled list last Saturday when he stepped on a nail, said Tuesday a shortage of players forced the school to drop the sport.

He said he started the year with 26 players but only 11 reported for last Saturday's game.

State Public High School Athletic Association rules require that 21 men suit up for each contest.

Krochyna attributed his dwindling forces to a rash of injuries that included three broken wrists, a broken hand, a broken nose, a dislocated finger, a dislocated tendon, a knee injury and a rib injury.

Orioles Trade Orsino for Woody Held

DI'BOIS, Wyo. (AP) — Veteran baseball player Woody Held said he's happy about the trade which sent him from the Washington Senators to the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday.

He was swapped for catcher Jonn Orsino, who operates a dude ranch in Northwestern Wyoming during the off-season.

Held says he'll be moving to a contender for the pennant and he hopes to help the Orioles. "I don't know where they plan to use me," he said.

THE '66 OLDSMOBILE
THURSDAY - FRIDAY - SATURDAY

The 1966 Oldsmobile Toronado, with front-wheel drive, is the most unique automobile in many years. A six-passenger hardtop coupe, it is available in a standard or deluxe model. Driving traction and handling under every conceivable road condition are only two of the outstanding characteristics of this car. In styling, too, the Toronado is distinctive and unique. A specially-modified 425 cubic-inch Toronado V-8 and Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission deliver power to the front wheels. Inside, the Toronado provides full 6-passenger spaciousness and features a flat floor.

The coach added, "Northwestern has turned out to be much better and tougher than people thought they'd be. Our scouting report is that they're good on defense and can run the ball well on offense.

I expect Alex will try to ram the ball down our throats with those big backs of his and control the ball. That would cut down on our chances to exploit our passing against them."

Bruhn undertook a wholesale revamping Tuesday of his No. 1 offensive and defensive units, changing seven of his 22 starters.

The injured Jenkins was replaced at one defensive tackle by Bill Maseller and Tom Domes took over from Mike Sonnenberg at the other tackle spot. Mike London moved into defensive middle guard in place of Domes.

On offense, Dennis Lager displaced the injured Bangor at wingback and Tom Jankowski, bothered by a broken nose, was restored as No. 1 fullback since Gale Buccarelli was troubled with knee cramps.

New London school system, compared the present Bulldog aggregation to the 1961 team, led by halfback Dave Emerich. The 61 unit posted a 5-2 M-E slate and finished third.

"That team was much more experienced than our present group," commented the personable New London pilot, "but this group has the attitude and desire to play good football."

As for Emerich, "Graves appended, "I couldn't compare anybody with him."

Most of these kids are juniors or sophomores. Only 12 of the 36 squad members are seniors, and in time they could be as experienced as that 61 club.

Graves added Graves served as an assistant coach on the '61 club until Bob Dehunger, the head coach, was called into active duty, 32nd Division.

Cites Defensive Backs

Graves cited sophomore defensive halfbacks Greg Wing and Larry Siosarek for their work in stopping Neenah's passing attack. Also in line for praise was Henry Linke, 220-pound junior fullback, and a lefterman tackle on the 61 team.

The New London strategist quickly added "I hate to single out anyone because I sincerely feel they all played exceptionally well."

The remainder of the Bulldog backfield has Dan McClone at quarterback and halves Rusty Yaeger and Tom Spreeman. The line from end to end includes Tom Brown, Stan Tesenko, Ken Karaman, Bruce Krieger, Dave Meyer, Bruce Nearing and Pete Phillips, or Dave Webster.

Karaman, a 200-pound 220 and Nearing, 225, are the heavyweights on defense, with Yaeger at safety, Captain John Flynn at Eugene Collier at linebacking posts while the defensive middle guards are Mike Marascio and Winkler, a 6-4 217-pounder.

The defensive ends, Dan Cartwright and Bob Worm, drew special praise from Graves as well as Linke, Wing and Siosarek.

Cardinals Lose One Lineman But Regain Another

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals lost one lineman but got back another for their National Football League contest with Pittsburgh Sunday.

Defensive tackle Luke Owens will be out with an elbow injury, but Coach Walk Lemm said Tuesday he expected offensive tackle Irv Goode to return from the injured list. Back Joe Childress and flanker Billy Gamble still are doubtful after missing several games.

Carl McAdams Top Lineman

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma linebacker Carl McAdams gave top-ranked Texas its last Saturday before the Longhorns finally prevailed 19-0.

For his sideline to sideline heroics, the 215-pounder from White Deer, Tex., was named Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

McAdams was given the same honor last year when Texas, unbeaten and defending national champion at the time, mowed down the Sooners 28-7.

Oshkosh Keeps Hold on First In Grid Ratings

Chilton Ranked Second Among Smaller Schools

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The second place jinx shook Milwaukee Boys' Tech but Oshkosh continued its reign as the top-ranked high school football team in Wisconsin in the weekly Associated Press "Big Ten" poll.

Greenwood remained in first place in the "Little 10," the grouping of the state's smaller high schools.

Boys' Tech (5-0) remained undefeated but its prestige was damaged when it barely beat Milwaukee Bay View 12-6. The narrow escape dropped Tech to fourth place in the balloting by the state's sportswriters.

Chippewa Falls (5-0) moved from fourth to second with 83 points after shelling La Crosse Logan 47-6. Chippewa Falls became the fifth team in five weeks to occupy the second spot. No team has lasted more than one week in that perch and Boys' Tech was the first to win while an occupant.

Oshkosh (5-0), first since the poll began, received 10 first place votes and 116 points after rolling to its 16th straight victory—46-0 over Fond du Lac.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc.

Milwaukee Don Bosco (5-0) held on to its third place spot with a convincing 34-7 victory over Milwaukee Messmer.

Schofield (5-0) also stood pat in fifth place despite its 59-0 drubbing of Hurley.

Superior Senior, which skidded from second to seventh place a week ago, moved up a notch to sixth after walloping Minneapolis (Minn.) South 40-6 for its fourth win in five starts.

Wisconsin Rapids Assumption (5-0) advanced from eighth to seventh place, beating Prairie du Chien Champion 41-6, but Madison West (3-0-1) fell from sixth to eighth place after narrowly stopping Kenosha Bradford 13-7.

East in 10th
Earl Claire Memorial (4-1) held firm in ninth place after conquering Marinette 21-0 while Green Bay East (5-0) joined the elite with a 35-0 win over Sheboygan South. East took 10th place away from another unbeaten team, Granville (5-0) which defeated Menominee Falls 20-12.

"In the 'Little Ten,' Greenwood (6-0) again dominated the balloting with 116 points and eight first place votes after rapping Abbot-ford 49-13.

Chilton (5-0) maintained its runner-up status, getting 73 points after whipping Kiel 37-14. Randolph (6-0) surged from sixth to third place after a 19-13 victory over previously unbeaten Rio (5-1).

Winneconne (6-0) advanced a notch to fourth place after its 19-0 victory over Hibert. Barron (6-0) moved up to fifth from seventh place with its 26-0 defeat of Cumberland.

Hannemann Hits 635 Series, Paces 'Comic' League

Jeanne Wirth, holder of a 102 average, uncorked a blistering 257 singleton to highlight action in the Candy Bar Couples League at the 41 Bowl recently. The game is the highest of the season by a Fox Cities-area woman keeper.

Jeanne launched the 257 solo with a strike, then spared before straining six strikes. A ninth frame spare provided a perfect, 3-strike 10th frame.

Bob Duszak totaled 500 to set the men's pace in the same circuit.

Robert Hannemann fashioned a 635 trio in the Comic Couples League at Little Chute's Hoon's Lanes. Dee Kold championed a 207 solo on the way to a 551 finish.

Len Schommer's 597 was the top effort in the Cigarette Couples League at Little Chute's Recreation Lanes. Mrs. George (Gerry) Behlle Jr. posted a 214 for the only honor tally in the Bethlehem Lutheran Couples League on Hortonville Lanes.

Hortonville Tops Denmark, 18-41 in Harrier Meet

HORTONVILLE — The Hortonville High School cross country team raced to its sixth triumph in seven outings by posting a 18-41 verdict over Denmark Tuesday.

Al Meyer and Don Delzer paced the John Amburg-coached Hortonville contingent. Meyer was clocked in 10 minutes 45 seconds en route to first place.

Delzer's time of 11:09 was good for second place. Denmark's Ed Granchalek placed third with Hortonville's Pete Bohman, Gary Diemer and Gene Bosin following, in order. Jim O'Toole and Bob Jentz, of Hortonville, placed ninth and 10th.

The Hortonville B team defeated Denmark's 16-46. The next outing for the Polar Bears is next Tuesday in a dual test at Clintonville.

Arnie Palmer To Defend Match Title

Warm Up With 67; Player, Lema Also in World Test

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP)—Arnold Palmer preparing to defend his World Match Play golf title, was suffering from a slight chill Tuesday but still tamed the tough Wentworth West course with a seven-under-par 67 in a practice round.

The star from Latrobe, Pa., starts his defense of the title Thursday, with a first prize of $14,000 at stake.

Palmer spearheaded the U.S. team to victory over Britain in the Ryder Cup at Royal Birkdale last week.

The other American competing in the match play tournament, Tony Lema of San Leandro, Fla., went around the tough 6,997-yard, par 73 course without keeping a record of his score.

Lema played with South Africa's Gary Player, reigning U.S. Open champion.

Christy O'Connor of Ireland, another contender for the big prize, still was suffering from the cold which plagued him during the Ryder Cup matches.

The four other stars in the field—Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson of Australia, and Peter Alliss and Neil Coles of England—all played tune-up rounds.

AXYDLBAAXE
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Solve a Racing Car Puzzle And Win a Set of Magic

BY CAPPY DICK

Drive the racing cars and try to solve the puzzle. Each boy or girl who sends in one of the 5 neatest, most original correct solutions to the speedway puzzle will win a good even-numbered circles. For ex-grooming kit consisting of a ample, Car No. 1 must begin pocket comb case outfitted with the race by moving to Circle a comb and a fingernail file. No. 9 (which represents one move). On the other hand, Car No. 2 must start by moving to Circle No. 4, representing one move. Now, can you trace the entire odd-number route of Car No. 1 so it reaches the finish in 13 moves and the entire even-number route of Car No. 2 so it reaches the finish in 10 moves? Use pencil or crayons to trace from circle to circle.

When you have traced the routes, clip out the picture, paste it on paper or a postal card, print your name, age and address beneath it and decorate it in any neat, original way, using crayons, paints, cutouts or other means.

Address it to Cappy Dick's Midwest Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow. Names and addresses of the prize winners will be published here and their awards will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

Thursday: A pencil and paper cartoon game for a party!

Editor
The Post-Crescent
Appleton, Wisconsin

Dear Sir:

In the "Unsung Hero" Department of your newspaper, I would like to nominate Vern Fuerst. I had occasion to meet him, as many other Mothers have, when their sons were about to take on the job as a newspaper carrier and I couldn't help but be impressed with this man.

To the new boy, many possibilities raise their heads. He may not remember the route numbers, he may not fold the paper tight enough that it stays together when it hits the door; in fact, it may not even hit the door, but end up in the shrubbery, instead. There are, to the new boy on the route, so many little questions, which to an adult seem to present no particular problem whatsoever, but to a boy of 13 or so, seem monumentally important. The "what to do, if's" took so much time during our "conferences" that I wondered at the patience of Mr. Fuerst, who answered them with such detailed care, even though most of them were the same question. While quietly explaining David's responsibilities to the route, he still managed to give him such a feeling of individual importance to the newspaper that even I began to feel that the Post-Crescent would barely manage without his services. In not wanting to let Vern down, I'm sure that David will do all the better job. Vern gave confidence and sound advice and best of all a feeling of being "backed up" for problems which he might feel he couldn't handle by himself. I remember, at one point, laughingly calling him "The Father Flanagan of the newsboys" and somehow, this still seems appropriate.

Most certainly, Vern Fuerst was just doing his job, but somehow it seemed just a little bit more than that. When you think of the hundreds of small time "careers" that he has helped launch in his eighteen years and the innumerable times he has gone over and over the same material with his BOYS, you cannot help but wonder if you would remain as genuinely interested and concerned with each new boy as he has....It has truly been my pleasure to meet him.

Very truly yours,

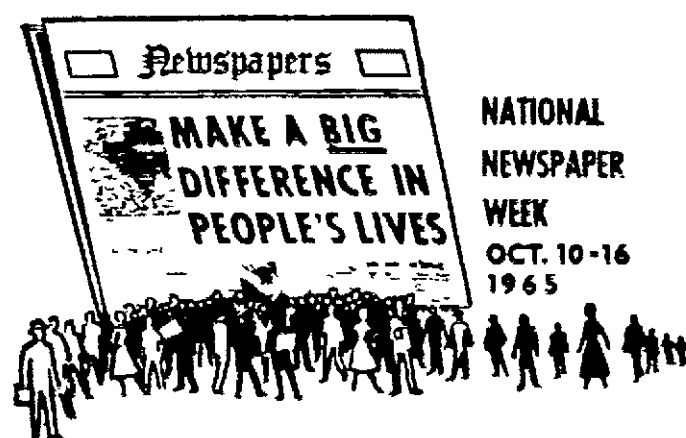

Mrs. David Abraham

... "just doing his job"

You're right, Mrs. Abraham, Vern Fuerst was just doing his job, but doing it the way we hope all Post-Crescent employees do their jobs... with the added ability and attention to details that inspire your kind of letter.

Thank you for your letter. We'd like to say we're proud of Mr. Fuerst (you can bet your boots we are), but we're no more proud of him than we are of our 225 full and part time employees, our nearly 50 correspondents and our over 500 news-carriers, all of whom are doing the job that makes the difference in people's lives.

The President's Operation

Now that President Johnson appears to be resting comfortably after his gall bladder operation — and with hardly a pause in at least some of his official duties — Americans can look more objectively at what seemed to be almost extraordinary precautions to keep us all from getting upset about the whole thing.

While there may have seemed to be a great deal of publicity in considerable detail about the nature of the President's illness, the means to combat it and how he was feeling immediately afterwards, it is certain that too much is better than too little publicity. The President of the United States has what is probably the most important single job in the world today. It is essential that the machinery of government proceed in an orderly fashion whatever the human element. And any major surgery involves the element of risk.

Of most importance were the steps taken to assure this orderly conduct of business whatever happened. The President made it clear that Vice-President Hubert Humphrey would have authority. He contacted former President Dwight Eisenhower to see exactly what procedures were followed during Eisenhower's three illnesses while in office. And Mr. Humphrey talked to former Vice-President Richard Nixon along the same lines. In part this was also to reassure Americans that the experience of the past was being employed.

The assassination of President Kennedy proved that, even in tragic and emotionally upset conditions, the U.S. government goes on. That was also due to President Johnson's quick and firm acceptance of the responsibility. Perhaps the success of the preparations for the operation and subsequent events this time were most clearly indicated by Wall Street where stocks, usual harbingers of bad news, fluctuated hardly at all.

Another Newspaper Dies

We join in shedding a tear for one of our fallen brethren.

The Indianapolis Times, a Scripps-Howard paper in the Indiana capital, announced Monday that it was indefinitely suspending publication. Officials at the newspaper said economics prohibited the firm from publishing "a newspaper of the kind Indianapolis should have."

It is a sad beginning for National Newspaper Week, for newspapers do not just cease to exist, just as they don't just suddenly exist.

They are living beings with personalities all their own. When one is born, which these days is rare, it must grow, develop, broaden and deepen before it is a member of its society with full privileges.

Just the same, when a paper dies, a living thing dies. The Times' competitive colleagues, the afternoon News and the morning Star surely also are saddened.

The Wisconsin Annexation Problem

With the urban sprawl triggering annexation problems throughout the Fox Valley, it puts added emphasis on the importance of cities adopting a sound policy setting forth the "why and when" for annexing other areas.

The Appleton Common Council made a wise decision recently when it concurred in the recommendation of the City Plan Commission to contract for the services of a St. Louis consulting firm to make a complete survey and pinpoint areas the city should annex between now and 1970.

Planned annexations make sense for all parties involved.

The plight of the central city in a metropolitan complex being surrounded by so-called "tax islands" is perpetuated under Wisconsin's outmoded annexation laws. In recent editorial comment, Edward Johnson of Madison, executive director of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, claims that during the last decade at least 10 or a dozen states have enacted legislation allowing incorporated municipalities to annex urbanized suburbs in adjacent unincorporated areas without the requirement of a referendum.

tion and the resulting disorderly sprawl, which in the final analysis is harmful to all concerned.

Here in Wisconsin, Johnson points out, there has been some rapid and disorderly development in areas surrounding cities and villages, but still no adequate laws have been adopted. In fact, the 1965 Legislature even turned down a proposal to allow unilateral annexation of enclaves which are completely surrounded by a city or village.

Also compounding the problem have been some recent legislative enactments and rulings by state agencies, such as the Wisconsin Public Service Commission, which have removed some incentives for voluntary annexation. In some instances these agencies have forced cities to provide municipal services to surrounding town areas. Both Appleton and Sheboygan have been "burned" by such rulings.

It stands to reason that when residents of these outlying areas can obtain adequate water, sewage disposal, schools and other services without having to join their neighboring city, they will never voluntarily agree to complete civil annexation. State legislation is sadly needed to cope with this unfortunate situation which strikes at the heart of sound community growth.

Cubans Want Out

There has been much speculation as to why Fidel Castro suddenly switched Cuban policy and opened the door to escape from the island for what apparently will turn out to be hundreds of thousands of Cubans. Quite likely Castro never would have made the offer had he known how many would enthusiastically take him up on it.

There were reports that the powers in the Kremlin had been unhappy over publicity about Cubans trying to make their way to freedom over the high seas and in small boats. But Russia can hardly have a great deal of sensitivity on that matter: The Wall still stands in Berlin despite tunnels, subterfuge and crash efforts of East Germans to get out. Just last week the Communists were demanding that Checkpoint Charlie in Berlin be closed down because too many escapes are made through that gate.

Castro may have believed that he would be better off without the dissatisfied or those yearning for relatives who made their escapes earlier. But this is hardly orthodox Communist philosophy. The regulation of travel of people like so many sheep not only in and out of a country but within it has always been accepted by Communist regimes as right and good.

It now appears that the number of Cubans who want out will run a good deal higher than originally estimated. Already small boats are illegally picking up refugees and transporting them to Florida. The number will depend to some extent upon how long the open door policy remains in effect and whether Castro slaps on tough qualifying restrictions. But right now the original estimate of 50,000 has been boosted to ten times that number. If half a million Cubans are so unhappy with their government that they will flee to a capitalistic country, it is unlikely to paint a better image of either Castro or Communism.

Judge Howe, the "setting sun" leader of the radical Negrophobists of Wisconsin, will speak in Appleton on the 16th first in opposition to the platform of the convention which nominated Fairchild and Company, and in favor of the nominees.

"A favorable allusion to the probability of making President Johnson back down" is expected Government office holders are cautioned against "taking a decided stand" inasmuch as Senator Doolittle has the ear of President Johnson instead of Senator Howe.

Fulbright's Pronouncements Are Put to Good Use by Communists

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright has become the prime American pet of Fed propaganda throughout the Communist world. His only rival for the doubtful honor is Dr. Martin Luther King quoted on Viet Nam.

The imprisoned millions I have been with in the satellite countries don't know Mr. Fulbright from Adam. But the Red dictators play beautifully on his Senate title and it would nearly turn your stomach to hear how neatly they fit what he says into their official line.

Taylor

His appeasement pronouncements, repeated and repeated, blare and blare and smother the air in Prague, Budapest, East Berlin, etc.—all of which Mr. Fulbright well knows.

SIDESTEP MORAL ISSUE

It is utterly beyond my comprehension how men of decent instincts like Fulbright, or Arthur Miller among many in the creative arts, and others, can sidestep the moral issue on the Communist tyranny.

Liberalism is a frame of mind. No true liberal can fight on the side of the meek of the earth merely on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, or deal in a double standard. They dishonor liberalism and its courageous stance. It makes its name synonymous with justice.

These wordy theorists, safe and sound, shout their sympathy for the forgotten and oppressed and probably build much of their liberal reputation on that easy process. Yet they seem to abandon their compassion, or grow vague and dreamy, if the persecuted of the world are under Red domination.

They wonder the rights of justice or discrimination were at home or in South Africa — although Fulbright is completely opportunistic on this point in his own state of Arkansas and fled from the Little Rock showdown like a timid rabbit.

Do they not know that Communist dictators do not reject a political, social or racial persecution and a least a half a million of the American people? The dictatorship, the Red dictatorship, is a planned brutality and dishonesty. Fulbright et al have the guts to stand by their liberalism.

There are two major refugees and escapees from Red tyrannies now scattered throughout our country. Castoffs new after selected exodus notwithstanding, more than 300,000 refugees from Cuba alone are here. Earlier this year I wrote an account from Key West, Fla., detailing how 7,546 pitiable victims had risked their lives in nearly incredible ways in 896 small boats to escape his tyranny.

The Miami Cuban Refugee Center of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, estimated that this figure became about 10,000 by similar clandestine means and that for every one who succeeded clandestinely three died. Forty thousand men, women and children: 10,000 alive; 30,000 corpses.

Hong Kong alone has absorbed nearly a million Chinese who fled Mao Tse-tung, and Singapore about the same number. In addition, Mao boasts that he has executed 800,000 anti-Communist Chinese. Is this news to Mr. Fulbright?

Four million Koreans fled to South Korea and were made homeless when the Red government took over in the north.

SHOULD SEE WALL

Three million Germans fled west before the Red government built the Berlin Wall and 2,100 have since risked their lives to break through the clamp. Instead of pontificating safe and snug in Washington it might do Senator Fulbright good to see the Berlin Wall and the monument there to tragic Peter Fletcher.

A million Hungarians fled west to escape the present Budapest regime. More than 35,000 were killed or wounded in their abortive revolt. About 70,000 were herded into freight cars and sent to Siberia, where all who are still alive are held nine years to this very day.

Of about 250,000 Jews in pre-war Czechoslovakia, only 15,000 remain. On Sept. 27 Jesuit Bishop Paul Hnilica, whom I saw in Prague and again in Rome, testified to the Vatican Ecumenical Council that he and 700 priests and members of religious communities had been imprisoned in Communist concentration camps in Czechoslovakia. Does Fulbright remember his protesting speeches in the Senate about religious persecutions under the Nazis?

Beyond the sacrifice of our national interest, human freedom is so unmistakably the central issue of our day that accommodations with the tyranny that exists seem almost treason.

Wisconsin Report

Democrats Not Happy With Primary System If It Hurts Own Party

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The irony of Democratic Party concern about the nuptial effects of a 1966 gubernatorial primary fight with no holds barred is one that Republicans of long memory cannot help enjoying.

Wyngaard

For decades the Democrats and their liberal allies in Wisconsin politics have cheered and cheered on the sidelines as Republicans fought out their nomination problems with such vigor as to leave scars that were often hard to heal in time to make the best showing in the campaigns against the Democrats as a matter of course involved themselves in Republican primaries as voters as well as sideline cheerleaders, because the Republican nomination process for so long involved the selection of the men who were fairly sure to be chosen to rule.

It is a sign of the reconstruction of the Wisconsin political system that the Democrats now have the prospect of an earnest and hard-fought primary contest for the governorship. That so many of them are worried about the bruising effects that may follow suggests, at the least, that they were not wholly in earnest in those past years when they asserted that the primary election is a healthy instrument of the democratic process and a basic principle of Wisconsin policy.

ENDORSEMENT ISSUE

For decades the Republicans of Wisconsin bore the burden of the accusations of their foes that their practice of voluntary delegate endorsement of candidates for nominations was a subversion of the lever and the spirit of the open nomination law adopted by the LaFollette Progressives at the turn of the century.

Those of an historical turn of mind will recall that during the years of the LaFollette hegemony there were relatively few contests for nomi-tions in that faction. Somehow, the LaFollette leadership managed to construct tickets without the formality of popular choice in the most important situations. Those who are observing current events have also noted that one of the powerful elements on the Wisconsin political scene today, the political action subsidiary of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO, has been anxiously seeking to avoid a Democratic Party division over the gubernatorial nomination next year. It wants to achieve designation of the nominee without the formality of a convention. It has put its case candidly and forcefully. One of the major candidates ought to withdraw. Implicit in its position, for the sophisticated, is the implied threat of cutting off expected money contributions.

Given secrecy, such an effort might have succeeded. But secrecy in such matters is just about unattainable in Wisconsin. No candidate with a decent awareness of his competitive position in the fight with the Republicans next year could dare to risk the label of being a "labor boss picked" candidate.

Nor could any politician with serious career aspirations afford to have it appear that he had been driven out of a contest under such circumstances.

THE LESSON

All of this cannot fail to provide sardonic amusement to those among the Republican faithful who recall vividly some of their own bloody intramural fights of the past, a few of which visibly weakened their party and assisted the Democrats to attainment of their present rank and power. The meaning, however, is broader. The bitterness of the effort of candidates within a party is a damaging factor. Republicans have accommodated themselves to the realities, to some degree, by their extra-legal convention endorsement procedure, which is persuasive, if not always conclusive. Far-sighted Democrats have long felt that their party must develop a similar mechanism in its own interest. They could not bring most of their fellows to their viewpoint while the Republicans were personifying the problem alone. Now they are having their own worrisome experience.

Strictly Personal

Cities' Parks Being Sacrificed to Roads

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

What is happening in Chicago should be a warning to residents of other cities in the nation. Chicago is sacrificing its parks to its roadways, placing traffic above people.

In the last few years, there has been a slow but definite return to the city from the suburbs. Many families are beginning to realize that a city can offer advantages in living that outweigh suburban benefits.

Harris

One of the charms of Chicago is its beautiful lakefront, with its parks and beaches easily accessible. Now the highway engineers have begun to defoliate these areas in order to straighten and widen the boulevards to accommodate more cars in the rush hours.

If this trend continues, if the engineers are allowed to put utility ahead of beauty and leisure, then the decay of the city as a place to live is assured. Families who have contemplated moving back from the suburbs will be discouraged by the loss of trees and parkways, the stinking air, the intrusion of more heavy traffic only miles away from their narrow strip of sand.

The modern city — through greed, apathy and short-sightedness — has already become dangerously eroded. Its lack of planning, its failure to care sensibly, its indifference to sun conditions except when federal funds are forthcoming, have driven the higher income groups farther and farther into the suburbs.

Tens of millions have been spent on expressways to enable these suburban people to enter and leave the city expeditiously; and the more roads, the more traffic; the easier to get into the city, the easier to get out. Those steam shovels on the new expressways are digging the city's own graves.

Cities were made for living in, not just for working in. They should be places of charm and beauty. But if the neighborhoods run down, then the schools deteriorate in quality, and when this happens no amount of high-rise buildings or highways can prevent masses of families moving out to the suburbs.

The highway engineers are only interested in "traffic flow." But more important is "people flow." Who wants millions of cars moving into the city each day, when an equal amount of people move out every evening? And when the city goes, be assured that the suburbs cannot survive for very long, either financially or physically.

Court Doesn't Allow 'Freedom of Screech' For Pigeons, Ducks

The judge in Milwaukee looked stern and issued his decree: 21 pigeons were ordered to stop flying and 14 ducks were ordered to cease and desist from quacking.

The judge reached his decision after a five hour trial (it was not known whether the pigeons flew or ducks waddled to the witness stand) which arose from neighbors complaints against the keepers of feathered friends.

Fair people told the judge that ducks quack anytime they felt like it, and when one starts a soliloquy the whole colony quacks. And as for the pigeons, they show utter disrespect for laundry on a line.

Well, the friends of fowl could either remove the birds, appeal the case, or make sure they obeyed the judge's orders. They have decided to appeal to a higher court, probably on the grounds of freedom of speech—Waterbury (Conn.) Republican-American.

Defeat for Labor

Chance Dim for Revival Of Union Shop Bill

BY NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor chiefs are holding a wake over the union shop bill put to rest in the Senate.

While some profess to detect a faint heartbeat that might be fanned to life next year, one top labor lobbyist summed up the feeling of most.

"It's dead — period."

The bill, blocked by a Senate filibuster and shelved Tuesday for the session by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, would have repealed the union shop contracts. These are labor agreements in which union membership is compulsory on members of the states to outlaw union membership.

Organized labor had waited 16 years until it thought the climate was right in Congress. This was supposed to have been the year.

In their frustration at losing the No. 1 legislative goal on which they had staked so much prestige and political power, labor spokesmen are variously blaming President Johnson, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who led the filibuster, and each other.

One sign of defeat was the rapid disintegration of the united front that warring and unfriendly elements of the labor movement had built behind the drive to repeal section 14B of the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act.

The AFL-CIO, riding a crest of political power in the Johnson administration, lays the blame squarely at the door of Dirksen.

But a top spokesman for one major independent union also blames both Johnson and the AFL-CIO.

"He (Johnson) broke the filibuster on civil rights. He could have broken the filibuster on this one," he said, adding that the AFL-CIO failed to stir enough grass roots pressure on Congress or the White House.

"Why should the President stick his neck out when the labor movement wouldn't," this spokesman added.

"The old arm-twisting certainly wasn't there," said a spokesman for another big independent union, in claiming the support Johnson gave the bill wasn't full measure.

At any rate, the 1964 Democratic campaign pledge to repeal 14B was effectively blocked by Dirksen and his band of Republican and Southern Democratic "buccaneers" — Dirksen's own translation of the Spanish word "filibustero."

About the bravest front labor can muster at present is "wait'll next year," but union leaders have long privately conceded their chances would be far dimmer in a congressional election year.

"An awful lot of people will be afraid of it" as a campaign issue, one union spokesman said.

Breathing Exercises Help With Emphysema

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. — You can learn exercises that will help you do them some real good. I hope written that breathing exercises we will soon have such classes, help with emphysema. I have all over the country.

The disease, but would like to your doctor to show you, or have him refer you to somebody who can, or perhaps best of all for Society, or whatever exact name it may be using in your city, and see whether such classes have been started.

I might even go so far as to suggest that you pay the dollar or two a year to become a member of your local society, because these dues are the source of revenue to organize such classes. You help not only yourself but others as well.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son's development is so unusual that I am led to believe it involves something like this. He is 18, yet barely into puberty. Is something like this attributable to a glandular deficiency, and if so can anything be done? — John N.

Yes, sir. By 18 a boy should have a well-developed "secondary sex characteristics," as we call them — deepening voice, hair, and beard growth, and all the daily depressed by the term "no cure." There's no cure for old age either, but if we use all that and do inhibit normal development on the subject we can prevent. And yes, treatment is make longevity happier and can possible, but it is essential to extend it. We can stay old long-term what part of the enter if you want to put it that doctrine "glandular" system is way. And I personally, do, blocking the boy's progress to now in my own home city the ward maturing.

Tuberculosis and Health Society. Discuss this with your physician, which like so many others is clear, or consult an endocrinologist interested in good breathing, or a physician who specializes in established breathing exercises in glandular disorders. classes so people with emphysema.
